Hint McNaughton May Lead Assault

LONDON (CP)—T. G. A. Cook, Evening Standard correspondent at Quebec, cabled today that Lt. Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, commander of the Canadian Army in Britain is likely to be the man to command the invasion of Europe and an announcement to this effect "is probable as a result of the Quebec conference" between Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt.

4 R.A.F. Fliers Survive Crash

Four R.A.F. fliers had a narrow escape from death Wednesday night when their twin-engine medium bomber crashed in the darkness into the sea off the west coast of Vancouver Island.

The plane, on a routine flight from an R.A.F. station, was a total loss, but before it sank the four occupants managed to launch and board the rubber dinghy it carried. All reached shore safely and are now back at their station.

Soviets Move On Toward Bryansk

LONDON (CP)—Russian troops advancing toward Bryansk captured more than 20 villages, and also gained as much as seven miles and captured more than 30 points in the Kharkov sector, a Moscow communique recorded by the Soviet monitor said tonight.

In Wednesday's fighting the Russians said they knocked out 89 German tanks and shot down 95 planes.

Nazis' Batteries On Italy Toe Hit

MALTA (AP)—A British cruiser-destroyer force today hurled shells into the coastal batteries on the toe of Italy which have been pestering the Allied troops in Messina and vicinity.

Singling out Italian batteries which are least accessible to aircraft or artillery in Sicily, the warships subjected them to a thorough pummeling and it is believed results were satisfactory.

P. R. O. Missing

OTTAWA (CP)—Lt. Cmdr. Ernest H. Bartlett, R.C.N.V.R., of Toronto, has been officially reported missing on active service, the first press relations officer of any Canadian service to be reported as a casualty, the navy department announced today.

He was serving in the Mediterranean.

Invited to Quit

OTTAWA (CP)—Mr. Justice C. P. McTague, National War Labor Board chairman, today informed J. L. Cohen, K.C., of Toronto, a board member, that if he found that membership an embarrassment, he might care to forward a letter of resignation. If this were done, Mr. Justice McTague said he would be glad to pass it along to the government "with the recommendation that it be accepted."

Mr. Justice McTague released his letter for publication after Mr. Cohen had informed the chairman that he would not sit with the board on controversial cases until government labor policy had been clarified.

Parley Costs Canada About $8,000 a Day

QUEBEC (CP)—Canada is paying about $8,000 a day to cover the expenses of between 500 and 600 people engaged in the Churchill-Roosevelt war conference at the Chateau Frontenac here.

This was revealed today by Dr. E. H. Coleman, under-secretary of state and chairman of the Canadian Co-ordinating Committee on conference arrangements, at a press conference held in the Quebec City Council chamber.

385 Canadians Killed In Sicily

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA (CP)—It was officially announced today that Canada's casualties in Sicily, up to Aug. 4, were 1,895 in all categories.

The casualties were broken down as follows:
Killed—25 officers, 360 other ranks.
Wounded—100 officers, 1,100 other ranks.
Missing—10 officers, 300 other ranks.

(The date up to which the casualties were compiled, Aug. 4, was approximately five days after the Canadians were relieved from the fighting lines and placed in holding positions.)
(Ross Munro, Canadian Press war correspondent in Sicily, reported Aug. 17 that the Canadian 1st Division had taken over holding positions at about the time that Aderio fell, which occurred Aug. 7.)

(Disclosure of the Canadian losses came on the first anniversary of the Battle of Dieppe, in which the Dominion lost 3,350 men killed, wounded or taken prisoners out of a force probably less than half that engaged on Sicily.)

There has as yet been no announcement of the proportion of British and United States casualties making up the 25,000 overall figure disclosed Wednesday by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

SAME AS HONGKONG

(At Ottawa, Defence Headquarters confirming the announcement from north Africa, disclosed that by coincidence the casualty total for Sicily was exactly the same as the 100 per cent casualty toll suffered by the Canadian army at Hongkong, its first heavy loss of this war.)

(The department statement said in part:
"In view of the fact that the fighting had been particularly heavy during the latter part of the period covered by these figures, and in proportion to the number of troops engaged in the campaign, the casualties among our troops are considered to be quite moderate, averaging about 70 a day for the 25-day period.

("Detailed official casualty lists, giving names and other particulars of the Canadian personnel killed, wounded and missing in the Sicilian operations, are now being issued. To date two lists, totaling 133 names have been made public and others will follow from time to time.")

DISPROPORTIONATE LOSS

(In Sicily, a division was engaged, the 1st under command of Maj. Gen. Guy Simonds of Kingston, Ont. Proportionate to the number of troops engaged, the losses were very small compared with the last major Canadian army engagement, the battle of Dieppe when out of two brigades and an army tank battalion, a total of about 5,000 troops, more than 3,000 casualties were reported.)

(At Hongkong, a combined Canadian-British-Indian force resisted a Japanese attack for more than two weeks before surrendering Christmas Day, 1941, when further resistance became impossible.)

(The Canadian contingent numbered 1,895 men in two battalions, the Winnipeg Grenadiers and the Royal Regiment of Canada from Quebec, plus a brigade headquarters. The whole force was either killed or made prisoner or subsequent reports from the Japanese on the number of prisoners indicated 296 of the Canadians were dead or missing.)

(The Sicily fighting was a successful advancing operation, so the taking of prisoners by the enemy was probably negligible, but at Dieppe, which was an attack and then a planned withdrawal, the taking of prisoners by the enemy accounted for more than half the casualties.)

U.S. Warships Join Attack On Italy; Blast Bridges

By RELMAN MORIN
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA (AP)—American warships shelled the Italian mainland Wednesday for the first time, developing violent explosions at Gioia Tauro and Palmi, and Allied air fleets deprived beaten Axis troops of respite by pounding communications throughout southern Italy, it was announced today.

"United States naval forces which had been supporting the advance of the (U.S.) 7th Army in Sicily have taken up shelling military objectives on the Italian mainland now that the island has fallen," a communique said.

Specific targets of the first thrust were bridges and power installations at Gioia Tauro and Palmi, on the Gulf of Gioia 20 miles north of captured Messina.

Light bombers and fighter bombers carried out attacks on roads and railways which might be employed by the remnants of German and Italian forces which escaped from Sicily, pitting the tracks and destroying enemy vehicles.

"Medium bombers attacked bridges at Angitola and roads and rail communications at Pontoli and Staletti," it was announced.

Ground activity was "limited to occasional exchanges of artillery fire across the strait of Messina," headquarters announced.

General Alexander Learning to Fly

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA (AP)—Master of ground operations Gen. Sir Harold Alexander is learning to fly a small communications plane known to his 15th Army group as "poodle jumper."

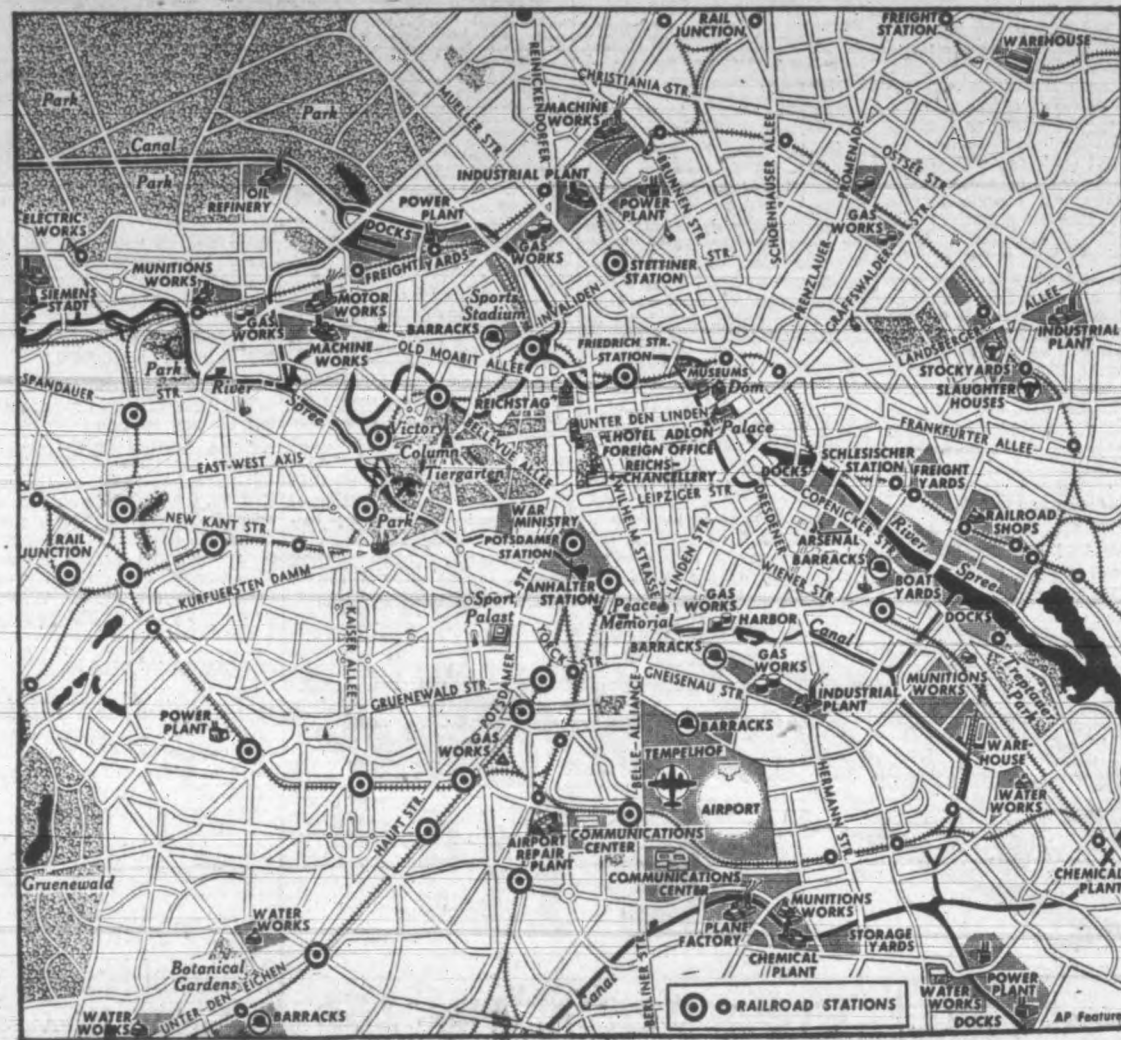

Gen. Alexander, whose victorious campaigns in Africa and Sicily were marked by close co-operation between land and air forces, decided to carry out the same principle personally.

Italians Deserting

MADRID (AP)—Reports from Italy, brought here during the last three days by passengers arriving in planes, and one group which crossed through France, indicate that the Italian army is not only anxious to quit fighting, but is now actually deserting, with thousands of deserters.

These reports add that strikes were spreading throughout northern Italy, and that peace demonstrations which started in the north, are now extending through central Italy.

BERLIN: Axis Heart and Brain

Civilians reported fleeing Berlin have the right idea. The Nazi capital is so full of military objectives that a few bombs could not help splashing over into residential districts.

In the centre of the city are such important government offices as the Air Ministry, the War Ministry (combining both army and navy headquarters), the chancellery, which is Hitler's official residence; the foreign office and the munitions ministry, which is crowded between the boarded-up U.S. embassy and the Hotel Adlon, where many foreign visitors and press correspondents used to stay.

Some of the war agencies, however, are believed to have been decentralized, in part at least, to places outside Berlin.

Ringed by the main part of the city is the subway system, which connects with the main railroad lines entering the city. The most important of five freight marshalling yards is in Schoenberg (lower left section of map). It can normally handle 4,000 cars a day.

Tempelhof Airport, the largest in Germany and one of the largest in the world, is well within the city proper.

Through the middle of Berlin runs the River Spree, and running off the river are numerous canals. This river-canal network is an important nerve centre in Germany's transportation system, and Berlin is the Reich's second most important inland port.

The principal one is Duisburg, on the Rhine at the west end of the Ruhr valley. The docks on the Spree itself, east of the chancellery, are among the older ones in the city. Those at the head of the Berlin-Spandauer canal (upper left of map) are modern.

Many of Berlin's industries lie along the Spree and its canals, but the larger part of the factories are scattered through the suburbs under a plan begun even before the war.

Principal industrial establishment in the city is the Siemens electrical equipment and cable plant (upper left). This is located in the area known as Siemensstadt. Civilians are especially vulnerable when Siemens is bombed because hundreds of company-owned houses, the homes of employees, crowd the plant area.

District just south of Siemensstadt is called Charlottenburg. It is one of the main residential areas, but some industries are located there, too. West of Siemensstadt is the suburb of Spandau. Range finders, naval fire control equipment, machine tools and radial aircraft engines are built in these two areas.

In Treptau suburb, in the area southwest of Treptauer Park, and in Schoeneweide, to the southeast of Berlin, are more electrical equipment works, an airplane assembly plant and the city's largest power plant. In Tegel and Reinickendorf, north of the city, are airplane parts factories, including some belonging to Dornier and Heinkel.

Diesel and aircraft engines are built in the Mariendorf-Brick area directly south of the city, and in Lichtenberg, to the east, is another Siemens plant, this one manufacturing electrodes.

Altogether there are 25 aircraft and parts plants in Berlin and environs, 55 machinery and armament plants, four plants making parachutes and two important pharmaceutical factories.

Political Strategy Under Discussion

By J. F. SANDERSON

QUEBEC (CP)—A general review of Allied political strategy developed here today when Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary, went into conferences with President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill, joined later today by United States Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

It is taken for granted here that Mr. Eden will fly to Moscow after the conclusion of the Quebec conference to give Premier Stalin a detailed report on the deliberations, perhaps accompanied by some high-ranking American official like Sumner Wells, Under-Secretary of State.

One obvious problem is French recognition, with the British Foreign Office and American State Department pulling in opposite directions in relation to the De Gaulle-Giraud set-up. So far, the two leading United Nations have not been able to get together on this important question, with the result the others are hanging back.

It was being predicted here today that some form of modified recognition of the French committees would emerge from the conference, limited to the French colonial empire.

It was suggested here Wednesday night that relations between Russia and the western democracies will be of paramount consideration during the conference, particularly as they appear to be reaching a point where some concrete indication of unity, co-operation and solidarity may be necessary to reassure

Eastern Shipyard Beats B.C. Record

By STANLEY MANTROP

MONTREAL (CP)—A launching and a shipbuilding record were chalked for Canadian shipyards today when two 10,000-ton freighters slipped smoothly down the greased runways and dipped their grey-painted hulls into the murky St. Lawrence River waters, with a third scheduled to follow a few hours later.

The Fort Moose and Fort Covington slid down the ways in the early part of the ceremonies that marked the first triple launching in Canadian shipbuilding history.

Nearly as her sister ships moved into the path of the waiting tugs was the Fort Romaine, pride of the United Shipyard workers. It was her massive hull that was scheduled to set up the new Canadian keel-to-keel launching record of 39 days, clipping eight days from the previous Pacific coast record of 47 days.

High on her grey-painted hull she proudly displayed the waving banner.

"The record breaker East beats west." Officials said she would be the 200th ship of this type to be launched in Canada since the outbreak of war.

public opinion in Allied and enemy-dominated countries.

What may emerge from the conference is a positive Allied general policy, making allowance for political differences in each state but at the same time designed to take advantage of the sort of internal unrest and disruption that has been evident in Italy, and which the Allies failed to capitalize on because they hesitated and vacillated.

Allied Air Armada Over Channel In Daylight Raid

LONDON (CP)—A mighty fleet of Allied planes flew out across the English Channel in daylight today to resume the aerial offensive against the European fortress of the Axis.

The formations which headed over the Strait of Dover included bombers and fighters, and the roar of their engines resounded over the coast almost without interruption for more than two hours.

R.A.F. fighter-bombers carried out sweeps over France and the Low Countries Wednesday night, destroying a German patrol boat off Ostend, bombing the Poix airport, and shooting up eight railway locomotives, it was announced.

One of the raiders was listed as missing.

There were no reports of bombings Wednesday night by the heavy bombers of the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F., which apparently were grounded by bad weather over the continent after 72 hours of unprecedented and almost continuous activity by British, Canadian and American airmen.

Do these figures mean that Allied losses are approaching the "allowable" rate at which bombing operations cease to be "profitable"? Do they mean that German opposition is increasing or becoming more effective? The answer, air force officers said emphatically, was "No."

Statistically, there is only one way to figure allowable loss: You can afford to lose as many planes and crews as you can replace, provided you get through to your target," said one officer.

"If you need 1,000 planes to accomplish your job, and your production is 1,000 planes a day, then you can lose 1,000 planes to reach the objective."

"Are Britain and America able to replace their losses? The answer to that is obvious—they are replacing them, and also increasing the size of their forces."

They mean, said officers, that Britain, Canada and America are sending ever greater aerial armadas to blast Germany and Ger-

Hitler's Paper Reports Move; To Vienna Maybe

LONDON (AP)—The United Nations radio at Algiers today broadcast a Berne dispatch quoting Adolf Hitler's newspaper Voelkischer Beobachter as saying that "the whole German government has left Berlin." The broadcast was recorded by the Associated Press.

There was no immediate explanation or confirmation of the report.

The statement that the "whole German government" had moved came as a surprise in London, although there had been numerous unconfirmed reports the past three or four weeks that some governmental departments were being transferred.

These reports—none of which had any official confirmation—told of great vans being loaded at the doors of Berlin ministries and rolling away—possibly to Vienna, Linz or Breslau.

Neutral reports also have told of the moving of some governmental offices to Vienna shortly after the Germans announced that they were withdrawing non-essential civilians from Berlin.

One Briton said that "if the report is true it undoubtedly is inspired by the fear of a 'Hamburg' bombing which in a single night might destroy tons of records and create chaos in the government machinery."

MAY TRY ROME TRICK

There also was the possibility that removal of the government might be a forerunner of an attempt, such as that of Rome, to obtain an "open-city" status for the Reich capital.

This was regarded as doubtful, however, due to the great concentration of electrical and other factories in the Berlin area and its importance as a transportation centre.

There were no accurate estimates in London of the number of persons who would be involved if the whole government moved, but a conservative guess would be at least 1,000,000.

The city is in the middle of the evacuation of more than 1,000,000 women and children, whose removal was ordered after Hamburg was almost wiped out.

American aircraft—operating from North African bases struck within 27 miles of Vienna when they attacked Wiener Neustadt last week and the Austrian capital is only about 70 miles from Sicilian bases now held by the Allies.

China Could Take Hongkong-Canton

NEW DELHI (AP)—Eddie Rickenbacker, round-the-world observer for War Secretary Henry Stimson, told American newsmen here June 10 that the Chinese, aided by the United States air force, could retake the Canton-Hongkong area any time they chose.

"From there," he pointed out at an informal press conference, "we could seriously disrupt the Japs' lines of communications to the Southwest Pacific. We would have a four or five-day chance at their convoys with our bombers. If we missed them one day, we could go back for them the next. We could force the Japs into the open sea, where our submarines and warships could come to grips with them."

Danes Meet Crisis

STOCKHOLM (AP)—King Christian of Denmark called German Ambassador Werner Best for a conference last Saturday during a crisis in Denmark over Nazi plans to punish saboteurs, the Stockholm newspaper Svenska Dagbladet reported today.

French Dromes Hit

LONDON (CP)—Allied bombers attacked enemy airfields at Poix and Amiens-Glisay in France today, a joint British-American communique announced tonight.

"Bombing results were good at both targets," said the bulletin, which added that R.A.F. Dominions and Allied Spitfires escorted the medium bombers on the raids. Other Spitfires and Typhoons made supporting sweeps over northern France.

Troops Evacuating Rome, Says Report

BERNE (AP)—Steps by the Italian government to make Rome an open city were reported today in a Rome dispatch to the Petit Dauphinois of Grenoble, which said troops were being evacuated from the capital.

Archives of the war ministry also are being removed, the dispatch said.

It reported the Italian government had submitted a new proposition to the Allies to make Rome an open city, but that no reply had yet been received.

Year Ago Today Canadians Made History At Dieppe

High Tributes Paid Men Of Daring Assault Force

By R. J. ANDERSON

Light assault craft sped toward the beach, racing the dawn. Silently, they eased into Pourville beach, two miles west of the main objective, and men of the South Saskatchewan Regiment waded ashore without opposition—first Canadian troops to land in force on French soil since the fall of France. The battle of Dieppe was on.

The news stirred the world one year ago today. It was a "reconnaissance in force," as summarized by Defence Minister J. L. Ralston, "conceived with the important object of obtaining information and experience vital to the general offensive program."

The official story of the Dieppe raid on Aug. 19, 1942, issued by combined operations headquarters, termed it a "successful demonstration of co-ordination of all three services, air, naval and military. The force arrived off the French coast at 4.50 a.m. and withdrew as planned nine hours later. Two gun batteries and a radio-location station were destroyed, heavy casualties upon the enemy were inflicted and prisoners were taken."

CANADIANS MAIN FORCE
Canadian forces made up the bulk of the troops engaged in the greatest amphibious assault of the war to that time. Of the 5,000 Canadians engaged, two-thirds were casualties—170 dead, 633 wounded and 2,547 missing or taken prisoners—and in his official summary last Sept. 18, Col. Ralston said: "For lessons learned and the advantages gained, the forces, and particularly the land forces, paid a very heavy price."

The Dominion's forces were drawn from the Royal Regiment of Canada, Royal Hamilton Light Infantry, Essex Scottish Regiment, Camerons of Canada, Fusiliers Mont Royal, the South Saskatchewan Regiment and the 14th Canadian Army Tank Battalion from Calgary. British Commando troops, United States Rangers and Fighting French units made up the remainder of the land forces.

The Royal Hamilton Regiment and the Essex Scottish with the tank battalion made the main attack on the beach in front of Dieppe. Their reception by a determined, well-emplaced defending force was stiffer than that met by the South Saskatchewan on the flank at Pourville. The Saskatchewan got into the heart of Pourville before being detected—but despite the fierce opposition carried the attack into Dieppe to capture the main portions of the town.

PENETRATED 3½ MILES

The deepest penetration of the strong German defences was made by the Cameron Highlanders of Winnipeg who fought their way 3½ miles up the Scie River valley to a point almost due south of Pourville.

Though some of the greatest air battles since the Battle of Britain took place over the battleground, with hundreds of bombers and fighters lending support to the ground forces, there was no large-scale preliminary air bombardment. This led to criticism in Britain, particularly by Lord Keyes, organizer of the British commandos, who described the operation as "ill-conceived and ill-fated."

At Winnipeg, Wednesday night, several hundred persons, including the 2nd Battalion (Reserve) Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders, paid tribute to those who fell during the raid on Dieppe. Rev. W. Gordon McLean, former chaplain of the Cameron's first overseas battalion, gave the short memorial service at the First Presbyterian Church. Two Dieppe veterans, Sgt. G. T. Nugent and Sgt. R. H. Budd, placed a wreath on the altar.

MISTAKES AT DIEPPE

The New York Times said in an editorial today, the first anniversary of the Canadian-led raid on Dieppe, that the "mistakes of Dieppe will not be made again."

The editorial said in part: "... Men fought and men tanks were exposed to a fire that no valor could withstand. Hunreds of them went as far as they could and died, but these deaths achieved nothing, except to prove what was already known—the high quality of the Canadian troops and of the small units of British Commandos, United States Rangers and fighting French who accompanied them.

"With north Africa and Sicily in United Nations hands we can look back on the Dieppe episode with some composure, and leave to the historians the bestowal of praise and blame. Dieppe belongs to a phase of war that has passed, as surely as have the tactics of Napoleon and Grant. The next landing in France will be preceded by operations which did not take place at Dieppe: by an air bombardment which will leave no abode of enemy within range of the beaches; by parachute and glider landings behind the hostile lines; by an overwhelming concentration of force ready to strike at the selected points."

"And some day there will be two spots on the French coast sacred to the British and their Allies. One will be Dunkerque, where Britain was saved because a beaten army would not surrender. The other will be Dieppe, where brave men died without hope for the sake of proving that there is a wrong way to invade. They will have their share of the glory when the right way is tried in France, as it has already been tried in Sicily."

In Canadian army camps in England the first anniversary of the battle of Dieppe passed almost unobserved as soldiers trained eagerly for the greater battles yet to be waged on the European continent. There are, however, plans for the observance of the anniversary this week-end with prayers and church parades.

But today for the most part the anniversary was observed with informal after-breakfast discussions in the mess halls of army camps scattered throughout the country here as officers and men recalled briefly the flaming action that took place on the beaches around Dieppe just a year ago. Then they plunged immediately into the arduous training program laid out for them.

King George, F.D.R. Laud Eisenhower

LONDON (CP)—The King today congratulated Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and the forces under his command upon the successful conclusion of the Sicilian campaign which, he said, caused rejoicing throughout the British Empire.

He asked that the Allied commander-in-chief convey "to my British and Canadian troops special assurance of my pride in their share of this victory."

His message said: "On the final accomplishment of the occupation of Sicily I wish to send to you and all members of the forces that you command with such distinction my heartfelt congratulations on a great achievement."

"Throughout the British Empire we have watched with admiration the ordered progress of the campaign by sea, by land and by air. We rejoice at its successful conclusion."

"I should be grateful if you would convey to my British and Canadian troops special assurance of my pride in their share of this victory."

"ALL THRILLED"

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA (AP)—President Roosevelt in a message of congratulation from Quebec to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower declared today "all of us are thrilled over the Sicilian campaign now successfully concluded in accordance with the timing and planning of the Allies."

The President asked Gen. Eisenhower to say "well done!" to "the officers and men of your command, British, Canadian, French and American."

The President's message, follows: "All of us are thrilled over the Sicilian campaign now successfully concluded in accordance with the timing and planning of the Allies."

"This is especially true when we realize that the enemy forces in Sicily amounted to 405,000 men. Events of the past 38 days show what can be done by teamwork based on preparation, training, timing and above all on gallantry on land, sea and in the air. From the ancient citadel of Quebec I send you my warm congratulations and to the officers and men of your command, British, Canadian, French and American, my thanks and enthusiastic approbation. Tell them: 'Well done!'"

Russians Within 9 Miles of Kharkov In Southern Drive

NEW YORK (AP)—The BBC, in a broadcast recorded by NBC, reported today that Russian forces had moved to within nine miles south of Kharkov. Dispatches from Moscow earlier had said only that the Russians were driving ahead after capturing Zmyev, 20 miles south of Kharkov.

MOSCOW (AP)—Red Army troops, slogging their way ahead through dogged German resistance south of Kharkov, today were approaching the two remaining escape lines supplying the beleaguered Nazi garrison inside the key Ukraine bastion.

A Soviet communique Wednesday night announced the capture of Zmyev, 20 miles south of Kharkov, in a "decisive assault" which smashed that enemy strong point. Zmyev is less than 10 miles from the Kharkov-Lozovaya railway, main enemy supply line.

Northwest and west of Kharkov the Russians also reported overall gains of seven miles which resulted in capture of more than 50 additional towns and villages. Stubbornly contesting every fortified place, the Germans slowly fell back after suffering another 2,000 casualties, the communique said.

In the northeastern suburb of shell-wrecked Kharkov, meanwhile, Soviet shock troops kept up the see-saw, street-to-street battle against reinforced Nazi units which has been going on for the better part of a week.

CAPTURE FACTORY

The Russians reported capture of a factory strong point from counter-attacking Nazi troops during the fighting Wednesday. At the northern end of the 400-mile active front, converging Russian divisions were blasting the approaches to Bryansk from three sides, Soviet dispatches said. North of Bryansk, on the Spas Demensk sector, an advantageous point was stormed.

The Bryansk operations Wednesday resulted in Soviet gains of from four to six miles in which 40 villages were captured, including the rail junctions of Berezovka, 21 miles to the northeast and Malinka, 20 miles to the east, the communique declared. Earlier reports had placed advancing Red Army troops at one point within 15 miles of Bryansk, capture of which would unhinge an important sector of the German's defense set-up.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Because he didn't give an invoice to a customer to whom he delivered a load of wood, Sham Singh of Vancouver was sentenced to 10 days in jail. For selling the same load of wood for $5-$1.75 more than the selling price—he paid a fine of $25 and costs.

Canada's Honor Roll

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian (Active) Army reported today in its 341st casualty list of the war, containing 13 names, that five men have died overseas, one of them as a prisoner of war.

Defence department officials said the man who died as a prisoner had been captured at Dieppe last year. There were no casualties from the Sicilian fighting in today's list.

Six men were listed as seriously ill and two others as dangerously ill.

The total of army dead since the outbreak of war now stands at 1,221, with missing at 874.

1,500 Japs Killed At Sea In Attempt To Retake Island

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, SOUTHWEST PACIFIC (AP)—The Japanese have been bloodily repulsed by a United States surface force in their first attempt to retake Vella Lavella Island in the Central Solomons, occupied last Sunday by American invasion forces.

A spokesman at headquarters of Admiral William F. Halsey's South Pacific command said that hundreds of barge-borne Japanese troops were killed or captured during a frustrated landing attempt early Tuesday. The thrust thus came a bare 48 hours after the first American amphibious units landed unopposed on this northerly island of the New Georgia group.

Of 1,500 to 2,000 troops in the enemy counterinvasion force, not more than 300 succeeded in reaching the island. And while there has been no ground action as yet, the spokesman said "unquestionably there are small groups" of the enemy roaming Vella Lavella.

The landing attempt was repelled by a light naval force which intercepted between 20 to 30 Japanese barges packed with 75 or more men each and a screening force of four destroyers.

In the engagement that followed, Allied headquarters announced that one Japanese destroyer probably was sunk, another severely damaged and a third was hit. American warships routed the enemy destroyers which turned for home bases and then wiped out most of the barges. A few barges escaped to make landings on the northeast coast. The Allied communique announcing the victory also disclosed that a small United States cargo ship was sunk on the same day by enemy aircraft.

TRAVELS FASTER THAN SOUND

Just about the world's fastest traveling human is Lt. Col. Cass Hough, above, 36-year-old Plymouth, Mich., airplane test pilot, now serving as the technical director of the 8th U.S. Air Force Fighter Command in England. In a P-38 Lightning and a P-47 Thunderbolt he has twice traveled more than 780 miles an hour—faster than sound travels. In addition, he made a vertical dive of almost five miles, believed to be the longest in aviation history.

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DE WITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst

The aerial success Wednesday and Tuesday at Wewak, New Guinea, is a reminder that not only have the Pacific forces performed the essential holding operation against a powerful enemy, but they have done the seemingly impossible by seizing the initiative and putting the Japs on the defensive. In the Wewak show bombers destroyed or damaged some 215 precious enemy planes, thereby virtually wiping out Japanese airpower in central New Guinea.

The significance? Well, that beautiful job brings us just so much closer to the day when we shall wipe out the great Jap naval base at Truk, thus rendering the Mikado's forces impotent in that whole vast zone of islands northeast of Australia. The little men of the Rising Sun are being forced back—step by step.

Meantime in the "Hitler-first" campaign, Moscow reports that the Germans are counterattacking before Kharkov on the fiercely-contested southern battlefield, seeking an opening for an offensive to offset the devastating Russian drive.

This turn of events has resulted in the Soviet army newspaper Red Star making a fresh appeal for a second land front in Western Europe, to force Hitler to divert troops from Russia and put him on the defensive in both west and east. The paper says that "only such an operation can cut down the length of the war to any considerable extent."

This is set forth by Red Star will direct reference to the Quebec conference, and, of course, anything published in Red Star represents the government view.

This being so, Moscow isn't likely to get great satisfaction out of the news that warships today were shelling the Italian mainland.

Such a bombardment would be an essential preliminary to an invasion of the peninsula, though it doesn't necessarily forecast such an operation. Even if it does presage invasion of the foot of Italy, it doesn't preclude invasion elsewhere as well. Anyway, the point is that Russia's main interest is in an invasion of western Europe and not of Italy.

So far as Quebec is concerned, the need of a land front in western Europe at the earliest feasible moment was conceded long ago by the Allied high command. Therefore the problem of Messrs. Churchill and Roosevelt, and their advisers, isn't whether there should be such a front but when it will be feasible to establish it.

The Russian report that the Germans are trying to find an opening for a counter-offensive in the Kharkov sector is vastly important. It may mark Hitler's supreme effort to save his blood-soaked line. If so we are likely to see some of the most terrific fighting of the whole war.

See Double Second Front As Allies Warn Patriots

By LEWIS HAWKINS

LONDON (AP)—The Germans are moving troops into Italy in considerable strength, apparently intending to make a real fight for at least the northern end of that country, a competent British military informant said today.

"Several divisions" have been on the move to Italy from France and Germany in the last week or two, but an exact estimate of Nazi strength in Italy is not possible now, said this commentator, who cannot be identified further.

From other sources came indications that the Germans are not only moving into Italy, but that their troops from Western and Northern France have taken over the French coastal stretch from the Italian border to Toulon—formerly garrisoned by Italian troops.

A radio broadcast in the name of the Allied high command told patriots in Occupied Europe Wednesday night to prepare for invasion of the continent which "might be near."

The best information in London before the fall of Sicily indicated the Germans had two or three divisions south of Naples on the Italian mainland and these plus, perhaps, 25,000 troops evacuated from the island, would give the Germans a force of 50,000 to 75,000 for defence of southern Italy—if they are still there.

NAZIS KEY FACTOR

With the Italian army fairly well written off as ineffective without German support, the question of Nazi strength in Southern Italy is regarded as a key factor affecting the next Allied step.

The majority of guesses here seemed to be that the German army is unlikely to risk large forces for long in Southern Italy where they face the danger of being cut off by landings to the north, but is quite likely to employ forces large enough to establish widespread positions to the north.

It was still obscure just where this northern line was likely to be, but one from just north of Spezia on the west coast through Bologna to Rimini is the basis of much speculation.

The invasion message, read from the United Nations radio at Algiers and from BBC in London, urged patriots "to perfect all preparations in the shortest possible time."

The broadcast, directed primarily to the people of metropolitan France, declared a new phase of the European war, "the liberation of occupied countries," has begun now that the occupation of Sicily is complete.

"We obviously are not going to reveal where the blow will fall," the message said, then added:

"People of the occupied country which is to be the first to welcome the armies of liberation will be notified at the last minute."

PATRIOTS ADVISED

Until that time arrives, all patriots were asked to aim their actions toward perfecting preparations for giving assistance to the Allied invaders while at the same time exercising "the greatest care" that they do not fall into the hands of the enemy.

The invasion blow could fall from the hands of the victorious Sicilian armies now poised in Messina across from Italy or from the big concentrations of battle-eager troops waiting and training in England. The blow against the continent could come from the south or the west—or both.

Opinion is growing in Britain that there may possibly be more than one diversionary blow accompanying major landings.

German commentators were quoted to the same effect in Stockholm dispatches to London newspaper. These commentators were said to predict "a double second front" might be launched by the Allies at any moment.

New Nazi Fighter Kept Under Cover

LONDON (CP)—Allied airmen have seen comparatively little of the Focke-Wulf 190, Germany's self-rated top-line fighter plane, since its introduction over France in the early months of 1942.

It has failed to appear in "great numbers" on any front, states the magazine Aeroplane, and the sternest opposition has continued to come from the ME 109, the best of the Messerschmitts.

The fact is, says the Aeroplane, that only a small part of German fighter units are equipped with what the Nazis describe as "the fastest single-seater fighter plane in the world."

The explanation, contends the Aeroplane, lies in the capacity and organization of the Nazi aircraft industry, not in lack of ingenuity of engineers and designers.

Productive capacity, particularly of fighter factories, has not been sufficient for the manufacture of the FW-190 in great quantities.

The Aeroplane says no new companies have stepped into the breach and that new factories reported in the east and southeast of Europe are mainly those intended to take over the work of the factories gradually being abolished by Allied bombs.

Rationing of Jams Under Consideration

OTTAWA (CP)—A Prices Board spokesman said Wednesday night that the rationing of jams and jellies has been "under consideration" by the board, and that the trade has voluntarily rationed these commodities for some time.

He was commenting upon an Ottawa dispatch to a Vancouver newspaper saying that the board was considering rationing jams, preserves, jellies and other commodities, but "no final decision may be reached for some days."

The spokesman said the rationing of these goods has been urged upon the Prices Board several times by various individuals and organizations as a means of assuring more equitable distribution.

CHINA'S URGENT NEED

If ever a drive was really deserving of generous support from the public, the Chinese drive throughout Canada is tops a mile. The federal authorities, all the provincial governments, and the dozens of municipalities should rush to subscribe to such an extent that the remaining public subscriptions will easily swell the fund substantially beyond its objective of $1,000,000.

H. P. WINSBY,
1008 Broad Street, Aug. 12.

TIMBER VS. SCENERY

Mr. Bruce Hutchinson's excellent article of Aug. 14 contains one rather dubious suggestion, viz: "... we would cut no trees in scenic areas, regardless of their age and ripeness." As often as not, dense masses of evergreens mar or entirely blot out an otherwise beautiful landscape. What is needed is intelligent control of scenic areas, to the end that enough, and only enough, trees be spared to conduce to a well-composed picture, as seen from accessible vantage points.

GEO. H. MATHER,
R.R. 1, Royal Oak, Aug. 16.

DISAPPOINTED MOTHER

I see by Aug. 12 paper that you are not going to open the primary school, because the mothers of the prospective pupils are not war workers.

I am exceedingly disappointed, as I thought this would be a grand opportunity for my little girl, aged five, to mix with other children of her own age and keep her out of mischief.

My husband has been overseas for nearly two years, and during that time I have had many opportunities of steady employment, but was forced to refuse because I had no one to care for my child.

I would not object to doing war work, if more women are urgently needed. But I would prefer a job in which I have experience. Many single girls have left various shops to do war work and consequently someone must fill these vacancies.

I feel sure if the school was advertised again, and we would let children of all working mothers attend, that it would be a great success, and just the opportunity we mothers have been waiting for, to do our bit one way or another.

MRS. G. W. LANGLEY,
1730 Lansdowne Road, Aug. 17.

HIGHLY ENTHUSIASTIC

The rather surprising success of the C.C.F. in recent elections has brought a lot of bitter criticism of that body from certain prominent members of the older parties. Now, I hold no brief for the C.C.F., yet one cannot help but feel that most of the criticism is unwarranted and only indicated weakness or fear on the part of the critics. It is a common occurrence on the part of losers in a debate or argument to become bitter, so one should not therefore be surprised at the bitterness displayed by zealous supporters of the status quo.

What so many fail to realize is that the world of men is going forward at an accelerated pace whilst they are standing still. What might have been good enough previous to this war is not good enough now.

If planes and machines soon become obsolete, so must decidedly old ideas and systems of life. Nothing, except perhaps, politics, remains static, but must obey the laws of progress or die.

The C.C.F. or any other progressive movement does not represent the ultimate in economic perfection, but is, at least, a step forward and in keeping with the growing demands of the times, and for that reason should receive the earnest consideration; if not actual support, of all thinking men and women, and should certainly not be the object of ridicule or abuse.

The old parties have done their job and made many mistakes, being only human, and have also done a lot of good work, but they have had their day and now must either adapt themselves to changing times and conditions or retire in favor of those who are abreast of the times.

It seems that Nature, and all that is happening and has happened in the past, is teaching us the lesson of co-operation. Individualism can only lead to misery, poverty, uncertainty and war, because individual greed to possess and hold at all costs is its driving force. One succeeds only at the expense of one's fellows; whereas under a co-operative system of life any advancement or discoveries in science or invention benefits the whole mass. Can anyone doubt for a moment which is the best system of life for humanity?

CLYDE FRASER,

COALITION AND PARTIES

The editorial in tonight's Times, decrying the trend toward continued partisan politics among some of the members of the coalition government of our province and pointing what seems to be the course Mr. Hart's government should take to meet the editors' wishes for a stable government in the future provokes some comment, commendatory and critical—yet with a whole-some desire on my part to clear the air of some confusions which are troubling the people of B.C. as a whole.

Your first statements tell of a wish to avoid the partisan platform, evincing some hope that a coalition convention would consolidate the political forces now in the government and advising Premier Hart to take the necessary steps to accomplish this. Further on, as on other recent occasions, the intimation is that there is basically no difference between the two old line parties, and then reference is made to the threat to whom? Inherent in the growth of the C.C.F., finally a reaffirmation of a former dictum that there is no room in Canada for a three-party system.

To much of this we can all agree, certainly the two-party system when it was in its palmy days reflected the onward march of imperialistic private enterprise, necessary and fruitful in its day. The emergence of other parties was an indication that the fruitful years were followed by those wherein demoralization of the masses and disintegration of the forces of empire required new expressions for those people for whom the old parties never spoke a word except around election time or during one of the periodic crises in politics and industry.

But the reference to three parties and the deprecation of such a phase in the life of the Canadian people leaves the inference that you desire a return to the two-party system, with the modification that instead of these being based on party lines, with full agreement among the old antagonists and the burying of the hatchet, there would be only the struggle between the coalition forces of the reactionary type and the new forces, presumably led by the C.C.F.

Without going into the matter of other political set-ups now existing and another springing up, I can only view this as inviting, yet provoking, the struggle to assume a class character—i.e., the forces under the aegis of the old political parties against those whose interests lie in deposing a group that symbolized unemployment relief, lagging industry, depopulation of natural resources, use of force and violence in suppressing the rights of workers to organize in unions of their own choice, free speech and assembly and finally creating the situation which ended in war.

Further clarification of this position would assist immeasurably in a better understanding

Training Wives For Canadians

From Manchester Guardian

To avoid misunderstanding, the rules about the marriage of American soldiers to British girls have been reissued, and it is made clear for those brides who want to sail at once for the United States that they do not automatically become American citizens, although they may be naturalized in three years instead of five.

There is no similar rule about citizenship for women marrying Canadian service men here, although other regulations, such as the preliminary permission for marriage from the commanding officer and several months' waiting, are not very different for Canadians and Americans seeking English brides. Wives of Canadians become Canadian nationals on marriage and a few of them, usually accompanying their husbands on their return home, have happily settled already in the Dominion.

Canadian military authorities in London give an estimate of over 10,000 marriages as having taken place in this country between English girls and Canadian service men since the war began. A Canadian correspondent has published the figure of 12,000. Though few of the brides will reach their new homes until after the war, they can learn in advance about their future life.

An experimental six-week course for the wives of Canadian service men has on its syllabus the index as shown by moving pictures—its history, social services and education and the practical details of household budgets, homes and their heating, and the value of Canadian money. The Canadian Legion educational service is arranging the course.

Liberation Near?

EUROPE'S ENSLAVED PEOPLES HAVE had numerous warnings against allowing themselves to be tricked into precipitate revolt by spurious enemy moves intended to indicate that an Allied invasion either had begun or was hourly expected. British radio announcers filled the continental air just a year ago today that the landing of the Canadians on the sands at Dieppe was an experimental raid and nothing more. The conduct of the civilians proved to be exemplary. They were delighted, of course; but the enemy sought in vain for any evidence that the populace of the once delightful old seaside town had assisted the invaders to any appreciable organized degree.

Yesterday's announcement from the Allied-controlled radio, followed soon after by the BBC's emphatic promise of early action, lent substantial new weight to Mr. Churchill's prediction of seven weeks ago that "heavy fighting" might be expected in the Mediterranean, and elsewhere, "before the leaves of autumn fall." Naturally the broadcasts intimated that "we are obviously not going to reveal where the next blow will fall"; but were specific in the statement that the people of "the occupied country which is to be the first to welcome the armies of liberation will be notified at the last minute." And "that time" might be near at hand. Although the news sent through the ether—especially referred to metropolitan France, it was intended for all those who are patiently awaiting deliverance from the Nazi tyranny—from Norway to Greece. And the fact that the message instructed them to make their preparations for "the new phase, the liberation of occupied countries," which it said already had begun, must have brought hope to countless millions. No such assurance would have been given unless the world were about to witness the beginning in earnest of the Battle of "Festung Europa."

Apart from General Eisenhower's announcement that his victorious armies are ready to strike anywhere, one does not require to be a military expert to realize that the great machine awaiting orders in Britain is intended to hit the north Atlantic continental coastline at one or more points—between the Arctic tip of Norway and the Spanish border. Recent intimations of an improved shipping supply, important victories over enemy submarines, plus the systematic blasting of the German war machine at its source, all add up to an early prospect of the action foreshadowed by yesterday's broadcasts. And was it not the Nazi General Luetzow who said more than a year ago that an Allied invasion would be preceded by an intense bombing of communications and airfields? In any case, however, several weeks have yet to elapse "before the leaves of autumn fall."

Action Will Beat Promises

MANITOBA NEWSPAPERS JUST TO hand contain reports of meetings held in The Pas riding—won on Tuesday by the C.C.F.—from which it is gathered that speakers for Canada's Socialist party promised the electors of that northern community everything but the sun, the moon and the stars. Accompanying the familiar denunciation of "the system" were demands for the immediate implementation of a wide range of social security measures, high-sounding generalizations extolling the virtues of the chimerical new order for which the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation stands; but nowhere is one able to discern just how these proposals, whatever they are intended to mean, are to be worked out on practical lines almost overnight.

To be sure, imagination and initiative will be necessary if Canada's social and economic progress by orderly procedure is to be achieved, if our people are not again to go through distressing periods similar to those experienced in the interregnum between the first and second World Wars. Some antiquated administrative formulas will have to be jettisoned. Recognition of revolutionary scientific achievements will be a prerequisite to successful expansion in the new competitive world which the peace will assuredly usher in. And this country, as well as other nations, will be compelled to give more practical thought to the basic needs of its people than hitherto has been the case.

It is no longer a question of whether Canada can afford to embark upon programs which the circumstances and trends of the times so obviously dictate, not only to prevent a repetition of the economic chaos of the early '30s, but also to insure peace and contentment and stability of government. Our statesmen at Ottawa, our provincial governments, and our municipalities, on the other hand, will be merely inviting trouble for themselves and disaster for the nation if they do not anticipate postwar needs while the conflict is raging and approach them with appropriate action. Let the C.C.F. and the would-be wielders of the magic wand have the fields of the never-never land to themselves. When the public begins to observe the differences between dreams and realities—and much already has been done in the practical realm—it will realize that many of the promises which seem to be contributing to Socialist electoral victories of the moment will evaporate.

It is the bounden duty of governments and of people with long-term minds to bestir themselves. Obviously there is much educative work to be done and done without delay. That so many voters in various parts of Canada can be deluded by vague promises of panaceas for all our existing and potential economic and social ills, without even the vaguest explanation of how these are to be brought about unless there shall be a sane pooling of intelligence and enterprise—private, corporate, or governmental—is a striking commentary on the traditional Canadian capacity to separate the wheat from the chaff. Action there is a plenty, however, which this and other provinces could take and should be taking now. It is action which counts in the long run.

Down To Details

IN A RECENT ISSUE OF "THE AERO-plane" (London, Eng.), of which he is technical editor, Mr. Peter Massfield has analyzed in illuminating detail the effect which the Allied bombing program is having on the Reich's industries. In his summary, for example, he finds that an 800-plane night raid by British bombers causes damage equivalent to the work of at least 77,000 Germans for one month. The same raid costs the work of only 18,500 Allied men and women. These figures do not take into account the influence of air-raids on enemy morale. In direct destruction each British ton—2,240 pounds—of bombs dropped on a German industrial area costs the enemy an average of 4,000 man-hours of work lost and the equivalent amount in extra work for repairs and replacement.

Calculation such as the foregoing, of course, necessarily can be nothing better than an approximation; but the British system of observation and photographic flights, coupled with the underground reports which they are known to have available, are believed to provide a high degree of accuracy. When the results of the American daylight precision bombing on carefully selected targets are added to the effect of the night bombing by the British "heavies," widespread further damage is caused by the repercussion on other industries of the destruction of such vital elements as the synthetic rubber plant at Huls—which was so effectively blasted in June—and Tuesday's attack on the important laboratory at Peenemuende. Added to the effects of area and precision bombings—especially in their mounting crescendo in northern Italy and daylight raids over Nazi airports—is serious damage to transportation caused by the squadrons of lighter bombers and fighters which concentrate on the railroads. Pilots now in Canada who have taken part in these specialized missions report highly satisfactory results. Thus the pattern of destruction from the air by the United Nations grows daily. And the visits of speedy Mosquito bombers to Berlin during the last day or so are not calculated to halt the evacuation of the capital.

Intolerable

DEMANDS ARE BEING MADE FOR AN investigation into the recent federal by-election in Montreal-Cartier.

"Hoodlums," says the Montreal Star, "were employed by one or more of the candidates and freely roamed the streets in cars, armed with lead pipes, brass knuckles and other weapons of the hired hooligan." The newspaper adds that raids on rival committee rooms were common, intimidation of voters an accepted practice, and most candidates "were visited by someone offering them 1,500 votes or more by means of a 'telegraphing organization.' Election lists were 'padded' and all the fictitious names had not been removed when polling day arrived." The Montreal Gazette believes that personation was checked somewhat by the demands for the presentation of registration cards. Nonetheless, "thugism" seems to have been altogether too evident.

That conditions were such as to warrant these references by Montreal's two chief newspapers, is somewhat shocking to the rest of the country, accustomed as we have been to believe that such methods were long since ruled out of Canadian polling. Regard for the very fibre of our Canadian democracy demands that action be taken to restore confidence in the operation of the electoral system; for intimidation and corruption at the polls poison the waters of democracy at their very source.

Will Not Forget

BRITAIN'S HOME SECRETARY HERBERT Morrison gave Prime Minister Eamon de Valera and his cabinet colleagues in Dublin a timely reminder the other day when he said that Britons would not forget how Eire remained neutral in this global battle for civilization's survival. To which more than one American newspaper has added a potent footnote which, reduced to a few words, promises that the people of the United States will have a long memory, too.

It is no secret that the Irish have had no better friends in their historic discontents than the Americans. But they, like Eire, will find it difficult to forget how Eire stood aside neutral, indifferent to this, one of the most dramatic and fateful struggles in the history of mankind. Irishmen by the tens of thousands, of course, have played a magnificent part in many theatres of conflict. Eire has not.

APPETITE

THE GREAT VICE—these days is lack of interest and an unsatisfied appetite for excitement. This war has shown how deep that appetite is, how great the void in the modern soul, and how the imagination of civilized man has almost perished and atrophied until it is no better than some of the vestigial organs of the body, like the lost eye in the top of the human head.

Our ancestors in Victoria, the inhabitants of the little fort on the waterfront, must have lived what we would consider a very boring life. They never went anywhere. They might ride a horse out as far as Mount Douglas or even venture to Goldstream along a narrow trail. They had an occasional ball or riot but there were no movies, no radio, no newspapers even. Yet we never hear in the diaries of that time any complaint of boredom.

True, there is one diary in the Archives of the Parliament Buildings which records the writer as being "half-drunk, drunk and very drunk" about once a week, as if he were attempting to escape the tedium of life, but in general everyone seemed if not happy at least interested.

Our parents were constantly interested by the occurrences of nature on every hand. I remember Dr. Tolmie, a true pioneer, used to tell me that he could spend a day happily watching a squirrel gathering nuts or a bird building a nest and I am sure it was true. Mr. Connell can go for a walk and return home crammed with news and gossip (the gossip several million years old, of course, yet more interesting than that of today's afternoon tea party). But most people are only waiting for the war to be over so that they can start living again. Which means running away from life and themselves.

BUT MAYBE BOTTLENECK

BRENNER PASS through the Alps, connecting Italy with German-occupied Austria, is the most direct route between Berlin and Rome and the lowest pass through the mountains. It was used many times by Teuton invaders of Italy during the Middle Ages and was known by them as "the route through the valley of Trent."

The road from Berlin runs almost directly southward to Munich, then on across the Austrian line to the famous old city of Innsbruck. From there it ascends rapidly till it reaches Brenner, a distance of about 25 miles. The steepest gradient between these two points is a rise of one foot in forty. The pass is 4,500 feet above sea level, Innsbruck a little less than 2,000. The Brenner Pass railway station is on the Italian-Austrian boundary line.

From the pass southward the road descends to German-speaking Bolzano, also called Bozen, Trent or Trento, and to Verona. From Innsbruck to Verona is 175 miles. By airline the distance is considerably less. History records many invasions of Italy from the north by way of the Brenner. In a 600-year period just prior to 1402 it was crossed by over 65 emperors.

The railroad over it was built in 1864-67 and a carriage road in 1872. In later years this carriageway was much improved and made suitable for motor vehicles.

But Brenner Pass is not only a passageway through the Alps for the Germans; it can be a dangerous bottleneck. In winter months it is often impassable to armies with all their equipment because of the heavy snows. The Nazi forces in northern Italy, if driven back into the mountains in the next few months, may find escape to the north even more difficult than they are now finding escape from Sicily.

DIPLOMATIC GASOLINE

Washington diplomats, Drew Pearson reports, are now losing one of their most pleasant privileges—exemption from federal tax on gasoline.

It has long been the custom for diplomats to drive into a filling station, get a tank full, and say "charge it, please." And when the bill is presented at the end of the month, the federal tax is deducted, the diplomat paying the balance.

This was based on the legal fiction that gasoline was an "imported commodity," and thus the tax should be waived.

But with the new burden of paper work resulting from rationing, gas station managers have balked at giving extra service to the diplomatic corps—making out monthly bills, calculating the tax, deducting it, and likewise explaining it all to the bureau of internal revenue.

Result is that diplomats are paying the full rate—when they can get the gas. Many are also stretching their legs, and leaving their cars in the garage.

Diplomats are likewise losing exemption from paying income tax. The state department insists that income earned, as from investments in stocks, bonds, or real estate, should be taxable. This does not apply to a diplomat's salary, however.

NOT-SO-TORY TORONTO

From Toronto Star
"Tory Toronto" no longer lives up to its traditional name. In 1934 and again in 1937 there was an almost even split of Toronto and York ridings between Conservatives and Liberals. And while, in 1943, the Liberal contingent has been entirely wiped out, the C.C.F. and Labor successes have more than made up for this loss. During the past 20 years, the elections in Toronto and the Yorks have resulted as follows, the figures for the recent elections being preliminary:

	Con.	Lib.	C.C.F.	Labor
1934	9	8	0	0
1937	8	8	0	0
1943	7	0	8	2

If final results bear out the preliminary figures for 1943, Toronto will have the smallest proportion of Conservative members in a long period of years.

'Second Front' Again

THE RUSSIANS are renewing their demands for the prompt opening of a second front on the ground in western Europe. An indirect general answer was given in advance by President Roosevelt in his most recent radio address.

The President stressed the length of time required to make careful preparation for a major military operation.

The invasion of north Africa was decided upon in June, 1942, and worked out in greater detail in July. The invasion of Sicily was decided upon at the Casablanca conference.

The May meeting of the combined chiefs of staffs in Washington was concerned chiefly with the next operations after Sicily—although with respect to certain fronts, various alternatives were left for decision later. At the May meeting, the combined chiefs of staff also tentatively projected their strategy to the end of the war, agreeing for the first time on a general plan. This became possible because the period of gravest uncertainties had ended.

ON DEFENSIVE

Ernest Lindley, the Washington columnist, recalls that in early 1942, the Allies were on the defensive everywhere—often desperately so. They had to consider—and sometimes take—military actions which might fall, in the hope of staving off worse disasters.

At this time there was strong sentiment in the American high command for a cross-channel invasion of Europe during the summer of 1942, to divert German troops from the Russian front. It was, of course, supremely important to prevent Russia from being driven out of the war, or back to the Urals, with the loss of the Volga and the Caucasus. Until the tide finally turned at Stalingrad the possibility of such a disaster overhung Allied strategy.

If the Germans had succeeded

LIMITING BUS RIDES

RIDICULOUS

Alan Groves in

Toronto Globe and Mail

I would like to bring up again the ridiculous regulation limiting bus trips to 50 miles on one bus. Possibly the Travel Controller, in his infinite wisdom, has what he considers good reasons for this regulation. If so, he should make them public, so that we lesser mortals might thereby be enlightened.

Can it be that this regulation was enacted in the hope that, if bus travel were made inconvenient enough, people accustomed to using buses would either use other forms of transportation or stay at home? If they did either of these things it would unquestionably save great amounts of gas, oil and rubber by enabling the buses to run the same mileage they do now, but with fewer passengers.

If the idea is to save gas, oil and rubber, then by all means carry the thing to its logical conclusion and place the limit on the buses, not on the passengers.

It would be extremely interesting to many of us to learn how compelling passengers to make a bus trip in two or more stages, at considerable inconvenience and added expense, would result in any saving, when the vehicles on which they start their journey continue on to the passengers' final destination. Considerable resentment is caused by this regulation, which, in the minds of the public, creates only inconvenience and added expense without accomplishing the purpose for which it was allegedly enacted.

WAR—25 YEARS AGO TODAY

August 19, 1918 — British advanced in face of strong enemy opposition and entered Merville, and the French took Le Hamel. The movement for the encirclement of Noyon continued as the French reached the outskirts of Lassigny and captured the village of Pimprez.

DIGGON—The writing never wears out, not only by using but by cleaning.

DIGGON'S
1200 BLOCK - GOVT ST

In 1942, we might now be doomed to a 10-year war.

BALANCING RISKS

But a cross-channel offensive, with the means then available, might also have ended in disaster—not only with heavy casualties to British and American troops but with possible serious effects on the morale of the Allies, including the Russians.

The British-American strategists had to balance the risks to the Allies as a whole. They chose a course which offered a better prospect of an initial victory of high strategic significance.

As we know, the invasion of French Africa and the ejection of the Axis from all north Africa, was not a pushover. The victory produced profound political repercussions throughout Europe, as well as military advantages of the first order to the Allies.

CONCRETE BENEFITS

The British-American method of assembling superior forces, organizing with care, and then hitting hard, saves lives. It also builds up a reputation for invincibility.

Such a reputation produced concrete benefits for the Nazis. Now they have lost it, and we are getting it if we do not already have it, and it is already producing concrete benefits for us.

Italian morale has been shattered, and Germany's is beginning to shiver although it may not yet be near the crumbling stage.

The largest-scale ground fighting is going on in Russia. By comparison, the Tunisian and Sicilian campaigns are rather modest.

But the defeats in the Mediterranean are heavy blows to the Germans. And who can say that the aerial bombardment of the Ruhr and of Hamburg has not sapped Germany's ability and will to fight at least as much as German casualties and reverses in Russia?

PRESENT SITUATION

In due time, doubtless, Allied ground forces will pour across the channel from Britain into France and the Lowlands, and push on into Germany.

But we have immense forces deployed in the Mediterranean. There is still much that they can do to weaken the Axis and shorten the war. They cannot all be bundled up suddenly and hauled to Britain and there promptly be reorganized for an offensive across the channel.

Meanwhile, the air offensive from Britain is developing rapidly. And within the next six months, if not sooner, it may destroy a large part of Germany's industrial capacity to wage war, reduce the German air force to relative impotence, and knock the bottom out of German morale.

PROSPECTS

Mr. Churchill predicts some months ago that the war against Germany would end in late 1944 or early 1945. Possibly now he would advance the time-table, if the Germans really begin to crack, more risks would be justified.

Within the next two months, the combined chiefs of staff may have to reconsider the prospects of defeating Germany this year. If the answer is affirmative, probably everything available will be thrown in at once.

But if it still seems probable that the war against Germany cannot be won until some time in 1944, Anglo-American strategy may be expected to continue to unfold in a series of carefully prepared offensive blows, each designed to achieve maximum results in the least time at the least cost.

War Baby Boom Offset By Rise in Natal Death Rate

NEW YORK—Millions applauded the record score of 3,000,000 wartime babies in 1942, but economists, doctors, eugenicists and health officials now studying the final tally find that death and illness among mothers and babies may reduce the cause for jubilation, reports reaching the Planned Parenthood Federation of America here show.

These analysts confirm the skeptics who have been predicting that the conditions of child-bearing in many of our defense communities would inevitably take their toll in infant and maternal mortality. They point out that babies are being delivered in trailers in mushroomed camps in almost every boom area, in doctors' offices, often at home without medical attendance. Instead of the 10 days which was once considered the safe minimum, mothers now frequently can spend only one to three days in the crowded hospitals. They are being sent home with printed instructions for the "proper care" for themselves and their babies, when often there is no one at home to give that care save the other children.

Personnel directors in war plants are finding that many mothers hide the fact that they are pregnant until the last minute, in order not to lose the additional and often very necessary

Cancel Contract For Army Stores

OTTAWA (CP)—A contract for the manufacture of military stores at the plant of the Northern Engineering Co. Ltd., at Port William, Ont., has been canceled. It was learned at the munitions department today.
Officials said the reason was that manufacture of the particular product made there has been stopped in England and Canada for "strategic reasons."
Men employed in the plant and now released, it was said, are urgently needed for aircraft production in Port William.

Trustee Requested Principal to Resign

Taking the stand at the afternoon session of the inquiry into Saanich schools administration in County Court House, Wednesday, Mrs. Fransine Paterson, school trustee, told Judge J. O. Wilson she felt that Mount View High School needed "another principal."

Detailing various meetings of the school board and interviews with principal, staff and janitor of Mount View relative to criticisms of the school made in a report of two former trustees, J. R. L. Burridge and Frank Tupman, Mrs. Paterson said that on one occasion she asked Dr. J. Morris Thomas, principal, to resign.

"His response was that he felt there wasn't sufficient reason for him to resign," Mrs. Paterson said.

She stated that the unfavorable publicity Mount View School had received was one of the contributing factors leading her to ask for the doctor's resignation.

When asked her reaction to the strapping of four boys, who had just completed giving testimony, Mrs. Paterson said she felt the punishment was excessive. She declined to answer the question of M. B. Jackson, K.C., counsel for the commission, when he asked: "Have you witnessed any acts of lack of self-control or temper on the part of the principal?"

She said she had never seen Mount View High School untidy on any of her frequent visits to the school, and witnessed no disorderliness in the general behaviour of the students.

Alva Wilkinson, a member of the students' council of Mount View during the last school year, was first witness, called by H. A. Beckwith, counsel for Dr. Thomas. She stated she did not agree with a report sent to the Saanich School Board by a delegation of students headed by Creighton Milligan, wherein various criticisms of the school were launched.

"I always received co-operation from the staff, and was enabled to get the courses at school I desired. If there was anything wrong with the working of the Students' Council it was the fault of the council, not the staff and principal."

She stated she had never seen main classroom doors torn from hinges, nor chairs smashed to pieces. When the class was in was through with the laboratory, it was left tidy, she said.

Climate in Japan is controlled in winter by the winds from Siberia, and in summer by the winds from the mid-Pacific.

The two states in the union which still make the dissemination of child-spacing information unlawful have given that theory a severe jolt.

According to the birth-rate figures just released by the Census Bureau, these two states, Massachusetts and Connecticut, had the second and third lowest birth rates, respectively, in New England in 1941. Massachusetts' birth rate was 16.3 per 1,000 population in that year, and Connecticut's was 16.7. In contrast, Vermont, which allows its citizens the right to plan their own families, led the New England states with a birth rate of 18.8. Maine and New Hampshire, where family planning is also legal, had the relatively high birth rates of 18.7 and 17.8, respectively.

The skeptics say it is not just how many babies that counts. It's how many healthy babies and mothers. A strong and healthy generation will be needed to bind up the world's wounds after the war.

The estimated rental value of farm homes increased from $706,000,000 in 1941, to $760,000,000 in 1942, the rise in rental value resulting largely from the increase in the current value of farm dwellings.

Says Standards Need Revision If Postwar World To Be Better

The Kipling Society held its annual garden party Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Church, 46 Douglas Street. The highlight of the afternoon was a challenging address by Sir Robert Holland, who was introduced by A. E. G. Cornwall, the president.

Sir Robert quoted from Kipling's poems to give point to his contention that "the new world will be built slowly and painfully, step by step through trial, and error, as always in the history of man."

Warning against blindness in dealing with the future, the speaker said: "If we are to make peace enduring, to stabilize our civilization, and our democratic institutions, to diffuse prosperity over the globe, and to press a stage further on the endless road to freedom, we must see that the organizational unity which war has forged is sublimated for peace into unity of spirit and purpose. Therefore, the self-interest which governs each nation's development and dictates its external policy must become illumined through the education of the common man in the varieties of life. Standards of thought and belief, of habit and way of living, will need drastic revision, both for domestic reconstruction and for international co-operation. This opens up a new and far-reaching line of thought."

Decorations of red, white and blue added a festive note to the garden and the tea-tables, at which Mrs. D. C. F. McArthur, Mrs. Philip Oliver and Mrs. G. R. Thomson presided.

Jew War Heroes Assaulted in Quebec Anti-Semitic Riot

MONTREAL — Plage Laval, Quebec resort town, has been on guard against a repetition of last week's violent anti-Semitic outbreak.

It was announced that tear gas and shot guns will be used by the police against the French-Canadian hoodlums who have threatened to continue their attacks on Jewish patrons of a local road-house. These attacks culminated in the recent clash resulting in serious injury to Moe Herscovitch, former Olympic boxer and rugby star, who was set upon by a gang of 75 ruffians when he attempted to rescue a Jewish airman from them. Herscovitch was taken to hospital where it was feared he will lose the sight of one or both eyes.

Jewish families who have summer homes in the neighborhood are reported in terror of their lives and property, and mounted police, military police and the provincial force have agreed to give them protection.

Two army privates and several sailors and airmen were attacked in the Kozy Korner dance hall. One Jewish Royal Canadian Air Force flyer, Charles Kassner, who was on sick leave, was knocked down and his throat injured by brass knuckles wielded by his attackers. He was accompanied by his brother and sister when he was accosted by a band of French Canadian youths.

When they demanded to know his nationality and attacked him with clubs, Herscovitch came to his rescue, and was in turn knocked down and kicked on the face and head.

OTHERS ASSAULTED

Other Jewish airmen have been assaulted and gangs of French Canadian youths have stopped passersby demanding to see their registration cards to discover if they were Jewish.

Chief of Police L. Boldue of Plage Laval said that the brawl was a "racial war," and that he was "doing all in his power," but the police committee of the community made light of the affair, its president, Omer Briere, saying that he could see "no point in magnifying a week-end brawl into a national issue."

A Jewish committee has placed its side of the case before the Minister of Justice and the Attorney-General of Quebec and has received assurance that the matter will be investigated.

Reviewing the "incident" the Canadian Jewish Congress, in a statement described it as a "pre-meditated action to terrorize and assault Canadian Jews."

CONGRESS PLEA

The congress called upon the authorities to be on guard to prevent further anti-Semitic outbreaks and urged intervention of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police to assist Plage Laval's diminutive police force.

During the attack members of the gang stated that they were out to get every Jew in the district, according to the Canadian Jewish Congress.

"It is most unfortunate that last Saturday night's outbreak was not prevented, although there had been previous minor disturbances," the congress statement concluded. "Certainly at a time when Canada with the other United Nations are engaged in a war to destroy international gangsterism the citizens of Canada of whatever race or religion are entitled to ask that proper measures be taken by the authorities to prevent local racial gangsterisms from spreading."

Hand Cannon

Hand cannon were used by the Flemish as early as the 14th century, but the exact date of the invention of this weapon is unknown.

Their commanding officers couldn't tell them apart so "Waves" Mary Margaret and Margaret Mary McDermott have been assigned different stations. The twins from Lawrence, Mass., enlisted together after their two brothers joined the U.S. Army.

Four Suspended For Doping Race Horse

CHICAGO (AP)—The Illinois Racing Board Wednesday took action against four persons it said participated in use of a battery on the horse Tib at Washington Park, Aug. 10.

The board indefinitely suspended jockey George Bowman, exercise boy Chester Jedinski and owner-trainer Lawrence F. King and revoked their 1943 licenses. Edward Janis, employed by King, was barred from all Illinois tracks and from any further activities with horse racing in the state.

The board said that Janis gave a battery to Jedinski, that Jedinski gave it to Bowman and that Bowman used it and passed it back to Jedinski after the race.

Steve Hamas Writes Book For Air Pilots

NEW YORK (AP)—Steve Hamas, the ex-heavyweight, has just written a book on "Stratosphere Stamina," which is being distributed to all army pilots in training. Steve's an air corps lieutenant now. Couple of westerners in town trying to line up a Turkey Thompson-Tony Galento tea party for Los Angeles next month. And the Jacobs Beach Beachcombers are wondering if California's even far enough away for that one.

Cable from Belfast tells about the umpire, handling a game between the 8th United States Air Force and a United States Army team tagged the North Ireland Blues, who put himself out of the game. Seems the Blues were questioning everything from his eyesight to his ancestry. He took it for 10 scoreless frames, then announced, "It ain't worth it" and walked out. Another guy finished up and the Blues won 1 to 0, if you're interested.

HIT AND RUN

Chicago Cubs scout Jack Doyle tells John Carmichael, Chicago News sports editor, that Bill Sarni, Los Angeles' 15-year-old rafter, is farther along now than Gabby Hartnett was at the same stage and age. Incidentally, Sarni's father thought the kid should get $15,000 for signing.

But a pal of the family—and the club—straightened it out. The Plimlico Futurity may have a $40,000 pot for the two-year-olds this fall. John Chapman, the one-time six-day bike race boss, now is farming 4,000 acres in cotton, tobacco and corn at College Park, Ga.

Butter Production Down, Milk Up In B.C.

Except in the Okanagan and Salmon Arm, butter production in B.C. during the first half of 1942 is considerably below that during the first six months of 1942, but consumption of milk has grown and promises to reach a point 30 per cent above that of 1942 by the end of this year.

Those points were listed by Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, in a report released today.

Vancouver Island's butter production to June 30 stands at 192,504 pounds against 225,224 during the equivalent period last year.

The Okanagan-Salmon Arm area reported 947,099 pounds for the first half year against 863,828 for the corresponding 1942 period. Fraser Valley and the lower mainland showed a drop from 1,580,293 to 1,103,905, while other interior points listed production at 199,885 against 261,848 in the first half of 1942.

The gain in milk consumption has been exceptional. Since 1940, when the six-months' total was 21,520,000 gallons it has increased yearly to 25,000,000 gallons for the six months ending last June 30.

Increased population is considered a material factor in the increase, along with the ability of more families with greater purchasing power to buy as much milk as their children need.

Milk figures indicated, said Dr. MacDonald, that while some less valuable milkers have been sold for beef, the better milk cows are still being kept for production.

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Despite six hours of grilling, Newark police were unable to crack the story of four-year-old Donald Adubato. The lost child insisted he was Donald Duck until his mother showed up to claim him.

Labor Here Seeks Wider Rationing

Plans to organize public bodies in this area in a move to secure more equitable distribution of necessary commodities through rationing were laid by the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council Wednesday night.

All groups interested in the move were advised to communicate with the labor group.

At present, according to opinion expressed at the meeting, rationing is at a loose end and efforts are needed to insure an equal share of necessities for all.

Complaint was heard from the carpenters' union over the material used in thermos bottles. The inferior grade of metal, delegates said, rusted to a point where it might menace the health of men using the equipment. A letter was ordered sent to the Minister of Health calling for an investigation and requesting use of better metal in the containers.

The labor council will seek a meeting with the Victoria Medical Association to discuss an industrial hygiene system outlined to C. W. Marshall by Dr. E. W. Boak. The plan seeks establishment of a more efficient health set-up in industry to check disease and study vocational ailments.

Surprise was expressed by the council over the action of the City Council in accepting a petition of Douglas Street business men against parallel parking on that street. Delegates contended the wishes of individuals indicated in the petition should not outweigh representations of labor and said thousands of workers using the roadway daily, together with industries for which they worked, should be given first consideration.

SHIPYARD SHORTAGE

C. Chivers, reporting on studies of the advisory board on unemployment insurance, said a labor shortage continued in local shipyards, according to the board. As a result it was necessary to send east for men and such men had to be guaranteed work for a definite period of time. In many instances they were not competent to handle the jobs for which guarantees were given.

Mr. Chivers reported. To overcome that difficulty the suggestion was advanced Selective Service, with the co-operation of the unions, institute a reclassification system to suit the man to the job for which he showed greatest aptitude. Such action, it was felt, would help to achieve maximum production.

The council ordered a letter sent to Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labor, supporting the claims of 20,000 aircraft workers locked out in Montreal.

Reports from the Gas Workers' Local 815, Victoria, and 376, Vancouver, stated those units had secured a joint three-year closed shop agreement with their employer.

Copies of the Compensation Board's "Information for Workmen" will be distributed to all workers, the meeting was told.

Enough phenothiazine has been sent to north Africa since American occupation, to treat 2,000,000 sheep to rid them of internal parasites.

Catholic Indians Picnic

Services at the Assumption Church, West Saanich Road, were held Sunday by Saanich Indians, followed by a picnic on Willie Smith's property at the Tsartlip Reserve.

Many white people from Saanich and Indians from Saanich, Cowichan, Esquimalt and Kuper Island filled the church for High Mass at 10.30 a.m. and again at 7 p.m. for a short benediction.

Rev. B. Tourigny, S.M.M., missionary at Kuper Island, was the officiating priest, assisted by Hon. Capt. J. J. Cyr, S.M.M., R.A.F., chaplain, Sidney, and Rev. Father X. Lauzon, pastor at the Assumption Church.

The Indian choir was led by Rev. H. Seguin, S.M.M., missionary to the Cowichan Indians. Ralph Bartleman was master of ceremonies, Levy Joe, censer bearer, and Jackie Paul and Hubert Henry, acolytes.

Nearly 300 Indians took part in the picnic, which was directed by Acting Chief Joe Bartleman of the Tsartlip Reserve.

'Cornucopia' Illinois

Tires with cuts, leaks, breaks, and bruises need quick first aid to prevent permanent damage.

May Revise Rents

OTTAWA (CP)—The Prices Board announced today that under its revised rentals order effective Oct. 1, tenants will have cause for a decrease in rental if there has been a lessening of appurtenances, furniture, furnishings, equipment, fixtures, services or facilities to be supplied for the fixed minimum rental.

The board announcement said that as of Oct. 1 a landlord may not, without the agreement of his tenant, decrease heating, lighting or hot or cold water services unless he obtains a permit to do so from a rentals appraiser, or unless fuel is unavailable or the lessening is due to government orders.

Mr. Warrender was injured in an automobile accident Wednesday afternoon at Beach Drive and Bowker Avenue, when his car and another car driven by Mrs. Frances Chambers, 2396 San Carlos Avenue, collided.

Oak Bay police attended and removed the injured man to hospital, where he was attended by Doctors A. C. Sinclair and W. A. Trenholme. Damage to the two cars was considerable.

AFTER having shown a lot of class in the early part of the season R.C.A.F. Flyers passed from the softball play-offs Tuesday night, beaten two straight by the Army. After dropping a sudden-death game to the Navy for the league title, the team finishing the regular schedule tied for first place, the Pat Bay airmen lost an 11-inning heartbreaker to the Army and then went to pieces in their second meeting.

Like the R.C.A.F. baseball club the softballers suffered from a too-often changed line-up. Scolded did the Flyers take the field two nights in succession with the same personnel. When the airmen secured a second hurler in Sandy Sanderson it was thought the team might go places but it was not to be. After winning the Pacific Northwest services championship at Seattle the club returned home to meet elimination in its own league finals. It would seem the absence of talkative Lou Labovitch, R.C.A.F. manager, didn't help the Flyers any. Although Lou was a source of continual worry to the umpires he kept the Flyers on their toes and they failed to show the same fighting spirit with him absent from the coaching lines. Labovitch is holidaying in California.

Final between the Navy and Army clubs should prove an interesting series with the sailors rating as favorites. Bluejackets enter the final with the benefit of a good rest and their ace hurler, Syd Stebbings, should be at peak form. Navy is a smart fielding outfit and the Army will have to show better class in the field than they did Tuesday night if they hope to win.

Looks like the boys are going to try and give amateur boxing another injection. Meeting has been called for Friday night by the V.M.D. Social and Sports Club with the object of going into the possibilities of promoting amateur fight cards. During the past couple of years several parties have gone into the boxing promotion business but all folded up after one or two attempts. With so many good fighters located here with the services it is certain that good cards could be put on and, under proper handling, would attract the crowds. From the grapevine we hear some definite action will take place shortly regarding that recent charity fight show staged here.

Gunder Haegg, holder of phenomenal distance records, calls Bill Hulse, the coming United States miler. The six-foot two-inch Hulse bites off nearly eight feet at a clip without overreaching, Haegg points out. Haegg picks Hulse as the American most likely to beat the young Swedish miler. Under the Wonder pulled a 4.06 mile, the fastest ever run by an American outdoors, out of the amazingly improved New York University graduate.

Brooklyn Dodgers have more scouts at work than any other major league club. Branch Rickey is spending $200,000 in the inspection of young players. Classes are being held in various parts of the United States. Benefits to be derived from the inspection of high school players depend on how soon the war ends.

Calgary Hockey Plan Sound

Develop Youngsters

TORONTO (CP)—The Buffalo Hockey Club of Calgary won the western Canada intermediate puck title last winter and now has designs on bigger fields. The Buffaloes have embarked on a five-year plan of building that should be a lulu. Buffaloes will sponsor a six-club pee wee hockey league for five years with Davy Duchak, Sam Timmins, Gordon McFarlane, Jack Arbour, Joe McGoldrick and other club members coaching.

When the plan is fully organized it will embrace a membership of at least 300 boys 12 to 14 years of age. Each player will be provided with complete hockey equipment except skates which he must provide himself. Each will have a brand new uniform. If this land of plenty were as easy for a boy to attain as it sounds it might have had effects but the Buffaloes aim to build solid citizens as well as high-class hockey players. To be eligible a boy must attain high standards.

in school and be approved by an executive committee.

If the Buffaloes follow through—sponsor the boys through organized hockey at least into junior leagues at age 18, there's a good chance Calgary will become a power in amateur hockey. Calgary has won the national junior title just once—in 1926—and the Canadian senior championship has never gone to Alberta.

DEVELOPS STARS

Keen interest in midget and juvenile hockey leagues is the surest way to develop championship junior teams. By the time the youngsters reach junior age, they've had the benefit of good coaching and "keen" competition for so long that they're already polished performers.

The midget and juvenile leagues are the major reason for Manitoba's dominance of the junior hockey picture. Manitoba teams have won the Memorial Cup three years in a row now and six times in the last nine years. Some of the greatest stars of Manitoba rinks have been lured elsewhere by attractive offers, have helped to pack teams in other cities. But lately, at least, the flood of Manitoba puck material has been so great a winning club was always forthcoming.

Calgary's Buffaloes deserve success if they carry through with their five-year plan. Whether they eventually win a major championship or not, they'll be performing a service to the country in giving youngsters proper guidance in organized sport.

ALLAN BOES CHAMPION

WINNIPEG (CP)—Allan Boes turned in a 36-hole card of 149 for the 36 holes at the Niakwa course Wednesday to win the Manitoba open golf championship for the second time. He last won the title in 1941.

St. Louis Browns Trade Veterans To Washington

ST. LOUIS (AP)—St. Louis Browns, whose team averages 30 years of age, took a cue from Brooklyn Dodgers Wednesday and traded two of their veterans—the first step in rebuilding the club with younger men.

Third baseman Harland Clift, 31, and a member of the Browns since 1934, and Pitcher Johnny Niggeling, 38, went to Washington Senators for third baseman Ellis Clary, 25, rookie pitcher John Miller, 27, and perhaps $15,000.

President Clark Griffith, the "Old Fox" of the Senators, had little to lose and a great deal to gain in making the two-for-two switch. Clary, presently batting .268, is not a heavy hitter, and Miller has been mediocre in his three relief appearances, whereas Clift and Niggeling undoubtedly will strengthen the Senators in their efforts to overtake New York Yankees in the American League pennant race.

Clift, while batting only .232, has a long record as a slugger, hitting 24 home runs in 1938, and he still is dangerous at the plate.

Niggeling, knuckleball right-hander who won 15 games and lost 11 last year, would have had a better record than his current total of 6 and 8 if the Browns had given him some scoring support. He twice pitched two-hit games and was beaten both times. As his parting performance, he defeated Boston Red Sox on five hits Tuesday, 4 to 1.

Navy Army Play Softball Tonight

Navy and Army softball clubs open their best-of-five play-off for the senior A men's lower island championship tonight at Athletic Park. Starting time is 6:30.

Sailors finished the regular schedule in a tie with the R.C.A.F. and won a sudden-death play-off for the league honors. Army wound up in third place and entered the final by defeating the Flyers two straight in their best-of-three play-off.

Syd Stebbings, their number one hurler, is expected to start for the Navy tonight, with Martin or Kennedy to work for the Army.

Senior Lacrosse Game This Evening

Senior lacrosse will be the order tonight at Stevenson Park when the R.C.A.F. Flyers tackle the Cougars-Jokers, starting at 7. Tuesday night the Cougars-Jokers won their game against the Owl Drug 14 to 8.

Cougars-Jokers line-up for tonight will include the following players: Andrews, Bryant, Halbert, Walker, Changranes, Ranson, Mayo, McAdzen, McKeachie, Fellow, Sage, Thomas and Breesee.

Armstrong Matched

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Henry Armstrong, veteran campaigner, and Luther (Sluggo) White, Baltimore negro, signed articles on Wednesday to box 15 rounds Sept. 18, in the Hollywood baseball park.

The California Athletic Commission simultaneously informed promoter Joe Lynch that it would recognize the winner as the lightweight champion.

The commission several weeks ago authorized a series of elimination contests leading to the title bout, saying it could not concur with the New York Athletic Commission in its recognition of Beau Jack as the champion. Since then Bob Montgomery has defeated Beau Jack.

Jeff Heath Stars

Washington Senators lost their runner-up shot in the American League Wednesday by dividing a doubleheader at Chicago. The White Sox nosed them out in the first game 3 to 2 in 14 innings, but Washington rallied to win the nightcap 4 to 2. The Senators made 10 double plays in the two games.

The New York Yankees were ambushed by Cleveland Indians 9 to 8 and 7 to 5 in morning and afternoon games and this feat enabled the Tribe to move up to second place. The second game went 14 innings before a two-run homer by Jeff Heath decided it. Heath, who had walloped a two-run homer in the first contest, also hit a triple and a single in the second game to bat in a total of seven runs for the day.

Philadelphia Athletics dropped their 12th consecutive game 4 to 0 in the face of a five-hit pitching performance by Bob Muncie of the St. Louis Browns and Detroit Tigers nosed out Boston Red Sox 1 to 0. In this game both Hal White of the Tigers and Yank Terry of the Sox pitched four-hit ball, but Detroit tallied the only run of the game in the first inning without a hit.

Byron Speece, veteran Seattle submariner, kept up the pace until the sixth inning when the Soles put together four hits for a pair of runs.

The Hollywood Stars plastered it on the league-leading Los Angeles Angels twice, 6 to 4 and 3 to 1.

Italo Chelini uncorked his second four-hitter within a week as Oakland defeated second-place San Francisco 1 to 0.

Joe Benas Fed Up With Relief Role

NEW YORK (AP)—Sometimes Joe Benas feels like a bottle of toothache remedy on a bathroom shelf. Nobody pays any attention to him until they need relief, and when he's given that, he's put back up there until somebody else gets a toothache in his pitching arm.

For going on four years now he's been the fire chief for Bill McKechnie's Cincinnati Reds. But now he wants to start a ball game. He says: "Relief pitchers never get any money, no matter how much they do or how many games they save. Five or six or seven thousand is tops."

"This is going to be my last season as a relief man. I know I can start and win, and starters get the money. If they don't agree to start me, I'm going to ask for permission to make a deal for myself. I've won 26 games and lost nine as relief man for the Reds, and no telling how many games I've saved."

Dizzy Trout May Hit Deadlines With 20 Triumphs

DETROIT (AP)—Paul (Dizzy) Trout, the self-styled Dizzy Dean in reverse, may step out of character this season by becoming a 20-game winner for Detroit Tigers.

While he got his nickname from the great Dean, Dizzy Trout never subscribed to Dean's bragadoles.

In four years with the Tigers Trout won a total of 33 games. This season he has 14 victories and nine defeats.

"If those Tigers keep getting runs for me and making those dandy plays, I may stumble right in with 20 victories," declared Trout.

Last spring Trout was asked what he was going to do in 1943. "Well," drawled Dizzy, "if the Tigers get 10 runs a game for me and don't make too many errors, I might be able to win a few. But, boy, those old Tigers are gonna have to be good to keep old Dizzy out of trouble."

Actually, Trout is a big, strong six-footer with a zipping fast ball. Why he never before has been a winner is a mystery to many baseball men. Del Baker, former Detroit manager now with Cleveland Indians, had a stock phrase when anyone expressed the conviction that Trout just never would be a pitcher:

"Don't give up on that boy," Baker would say, "because he's got a strong arm."

Port Angeles Nine Plays Here Saturday

Intercity baseball will return to Athletic Park Saturday when Victoria clubs tangle with Port Angeles in two games. In the afternoon, starting at 2:30, the Army will provide the opposition while the Victoria Machinery Dept. will meet the visitors in the night engagement at 6:15.

There will be no baseball at the park Friday night as the Navy club will be in Seattle for the servicemen's tournament.

With a six-team league operating in Port Angeles, the Washington town is expected to send over a strong nine. Several first-class teams from across the straits have appeared here in previous seasons.

Navy Deadlocks Baseball Final

Smashes 14 Hits to Beat Army 7 to 3

Pounding out 14 hits, including second baseman Dietrick's home run over the centre field fence in the eighth, off Jerry Whitney, Navy defeated the Army 7 to 3 Wednesday night to tie up their baseball playoff at one win apiece. Clubs will meet again Monday night at 6:15.

After taking the lead with a three-run rally in the fourth the sailors were always out in front. The Navy looked the better ball club on the evening's play, giving an errorless exhibition in the field. The Army had a pair of bobbies charged against them while they came up with some poor base running. In addition, the Army outfielders on three occasions made futile attempts to throw out runners, giving the batters an extra base each time.

Taking over in the second inning after Jimmy Dumeah walked off the mound with a sore shoulder, southpaw Mike Genthon held the Army to two runs and eight hits while he struck out three and walked one. Dumeah, who entered the game with the injury, pulled himself after walking Doug Peden the first batter to face him in the second. Dumeah was charged with one run and one hit.

Whitney was credited with four strikeouts while he walked a pair. The slender right hander had a lot of trouble with the Navy sluggers, being hit hard. Gil Bruce paced the Navy offensive with a perfect night at the plate, four for four, including a double. Peden, Army first baseman, was also hitting the ball hard with three for three, including a two-base knock.

ARMY OPENS SCORE

Army put across the first run of the game in the second. With Peden on first as the result of a walk Genthon took over. Peden stole second and went down to third on Cousins' ground out. Gerrard walked and pilfered second. Sawchuk flied to Walker in right, Peden scoring after the catch, but Gerrard was caught going to third.

After the Navy had cut short an Army rally in the top half of the fourth with a fast double play they went to work on Whitney. Bruce opened the inning with his second single. Walker followed with a hit, over shortstop, Bruce going all the way to third, and Walker advancing to second on the throw to try and catch Bruce. Van Hatten popped out to Metz. Berringer grounded out to Gerrard, Bruce scoring. Coy's single over second sent Walker home. Weigand walked on four straight balls. Genthon pushed the ball over shortstop for a single. Coy crossing the plate, Dietrick grounded out to Whitney.

Navy added another run in the fifth. Bruce singled, went to second on an infield out and scored when second baseman Gerrard and right fielder Cousins could not make up their minds—who was to take Van Hatten's Texas Leaguer, and it dropped between them for a hit.

Sixth saw the Navy push across two more runs. Weigand beat out a hit to Metz at shortstop. Genthon drew a life on Gerrard's error, the runners ending up on third and second. Dietrick's clean single through second scored both runners.

Army came back with a pair of runs in the seventh. Metz singled and Peden hit the left centre field fence for two bases. Cousins grounded out to Dietrick and when Metz was pitifully slow in starting from third he was trapped for a double play. Gerrard singled through the box, scoring Peden and scored himself on Sawchuk's hit. Whitney forced Sawchuk at second to retire the side. Dietrick's home run ended the scoring in the eighth.

Short score follows:

Army ..... R. H. E.
Navy ..... 3 9 2
Batteries—Whitney and Sawchuk; Dumeah, Genthon and Berringer.

What Will Wages Do To Farm Prices?

By R. J. DEACHMAN

There came before the special committee of the House of Commons, July 7, P. R. Bengough, acting president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

Said Mr. Bengough—and this is a matter which is of vital interest to farmers:

"It is our considered opinion that serious thought will have to be given now to arranging for a distribution of available employment on a far shorter work day and work week basis than previously adopted."

He then went on to say: "With such ideas in mind we have advocated the raising of the school leaving age, the shortening of the hours of labor to 30 hours per week and a retirement age of 60 years. While by such methods distribution of available employment can be accomplished, it is imperative that there be no reduction in real wage levels, otherwise the buying power of the people will be impaired, our home market destroyed."

What does Mr. Bengough and the great labor organization which he represents mean by those sentences? Labor now works 8 to 8½ hours a day, 40 to 44 hours per week. Working on a six-hour day, 30 hours per week, with the same pay as formerly received for 40 is a 33 per cent advance in hourly wage rates. On the basis of 44 hours, it is an increase of 46 per cent.

Wages are costs—when wages are raised, the price of the products produced must go up. Wages and salaries now constitute 65 per cent of the national income. Labor, by this proposed action, will force up prices on the things which labor itself buys—the balance, 35 per cent of the increase, will be charged to others, mainly farmers.

But as high prices lower consumption and restrict exports, the total number of men employed would decrease and as industry must strive to cut costs, new and improved machinery would throw men out of work. The proposal of labor and—as I shall presently show this means—the C.C.F. would reduce the total wage and salary payments almost immediately after it was put into effect. It would seriously affect the net returns of agriculture, one of the best customers labor has.

LET HISTORY SPEAK

Recall the record of past depressions. The price level fell when the depression began. The price of farm products was cut in two during the last depression. Labor now announces its settled policy. When this happens again, it will demand an increase, which on a per hour basis, is to be from 33 to 46 per cent higher than present wage rates.

Now let us listen to some further comments from Mr. Bengough on this question:

"We suggest 30 hours per week... It may necessarily have to be shorter. We suggest 30 hours a week, but we also state that it is necessary for the real wages and the buying power of the people to be maintained. Otherwise they cannot buy and our home market would suffer as a result of it."

The tendency will be to apply this to farm labor. The hired man will start at 9 a.m., stop at 12—take an hour at noon and quit at 4 p.m. But he will earn as much as he did before and, on an hourly basis, a great deal more.

That is only one phase of the question. The farmer exchanges the products he produces for the products others produce. If the wages of the workers are to increase from 30 to 46 per cent, then the cost of every article the farmer buys will go up. It will not raise the price the farmer receives for the things he sells—relatively it will lower his price. As prices of manufactured goods go up with shortened hours and higher pay per hour, the position of the farmer will be that he must work longer for what he gets or lower his standard of living.

That is not all. Because costs and selling prices of manufactured goods will be higher, total sales will be lower. There will be less employment—and the farmer, in many ways direct and indirect, will be compelled to contribute to those who, by their own action, have been forced out of an opportunity to work.

Mr. Bengough doesn't know it, but Canadian exports are quite high. Mr. Bengough should tell us how, by raising our cost of production, we can sell more in that highly competitive field. Of course we cannot do so. The inevitable result of this program is unemployment for labor and a vast problem of public works which, in one way or another, the farmer and basic producer will have to pay. Even labor, in the end, through unemployment will pay dearly for the C.C.F. remedies offered by Mr. Bengough.

Underground Radio In Italy Demands Strike For Peace

LONDON (CP)—The Italian underground radio station "Milano e Libertà" broadcast a new appeal by anti-Fascist parties today calling for a general strike in Italy. The broadcast, recorded in London by the Associated Press, demanded an immediate end to hostilities, abdication of King Victor Emmanuel, dismissal of Premier Badoglio, amnesty for political prisoners and freedom for workers to organize.

In a radio speech heard in Berne, meanwhile, Marshal Badoglio admitting Allied might had forced Axis abandonment of Sicily, implied future return of the war-torn island to Italy and brought the country's first great war leader, Victor Orlando, out of the anti-Fascist retirement to cheer his fellow Sicilians.

Badoglio said "the scarred soil of Sicily has had to be abandoned" in the face of the enormous numerical and material superiority of the Allies.

Speaking on the same program was Sicilian-born Orlando, 83-year-old former Italian premier who was one of the big four at the Versailles peace conference.

In his first appearance on an official Italian program since he broke with Mussolini in 1925, Orlando told the Sicilians of his sorrow at their suffering and said he had "no recriminations at the moment."

There was no indication of whether Orlando, who took over Italy's helm during her most desperate moment in the last war and led her to new victories, now contemplates returning to some official post.

French General Killed In Action

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA (AP) — Gen. Louis-Marie Koeltz, commander of the French 19th Corps, has been killed in action, it was disclosed today.

The death of the general, whose troops fought alongside the British 1st Army in the Tunisian campaign, was disclosed with announcement of a posthumous Legion of Merit award. Besides Gen. Koeltz, Gen. Henri Giraud, Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery and 60 other British and French officers who played major roles in the North African landings and the subsequent Tunisian campaign were awarded Legion of Merit medals.

Service Station Thief Gets Valueless Coupons

Ration coupons for 1,350 gallons of gasoline were taken from the Shell Oil Co. service station, 601 Gorge Road, early today, but the ration coupons will be of no value to the thief, for they had been canceled.

Detective P. W. Richards said the station was entered by smashing a glass in a door. He said the break-in occurred shortly after midnight.

Under a new regulation service stations cancel gasoline coupons as they are received. The 450 coupons taken were therefore of no value.

Unconscious Man Found On Highway

Found lying on Admirals Road near Yarrows No. 2 yard, apparently his bicycle having been struck by a car, Walter Arthur May, Gladiola Avenue, was removed early today to Royal Jubilee Hospital suffering from a skull fracture and numerous cuts and lacerations about the face and hands.

The unconscious man was found by Gerald Richards, shipyard guard, and was removed to hospital by Constables Norman Galbraith and Robert Morris of the city police. Constable John Lockie of the B.C. Police is making further investigations.

Dr. E. L. McNiven is attending.

Wounded Victorian Rapidly Recovering

Indirect word has been received by Mrs. L. C. Seymour that her son, Sgt. H. R. Seymour, one of the first Canadian casualties reported in the Sicily campaign, is rapidly recovering.

Mrs. Seymour today received an airgram from her son's wife in England saying Sgt. Seymour had written from a hospital in North Africa that he was wounded in the right hand but that he was getting better and would "soon be ready for another crack at the Jerties."

Flt. Sgt. Robert F. Bird, R.C.A.F., previously reported missing on active service, now is presumed dead. He was an air gunner on a Lancaster bomber which was lost over Berlin Jan. 16 last. His mother, Mrs. E. M. Bird, 1118 Fairfield Road, has been advised he was buried at Duisburg, Germany.

Charge Dismissed

Testifying that he had only wanted to do the taxi driver a good turn by driving the cab closer to the stand, Robert Ernest Wheeler, R.C.N.V.R. signalman, was freed today after Magistrate H. C. Hall dismissed a charge of taking a car without the consent of the owner.

Sgt. Harry Mercer said he had seen a Black and White Co. taxi pull out of the parking lot near 722 View Street and almost hit a parked car, then go west on View and stop about 20 yards past the stand. The accused was driving, he said.

John Petrie, 116 Wellington, said Wheeler had come to the stand to get a cab and they had gone to the car together. Wheeler handed him a $10 bill, he said, and he left the car to get some change. Next he saw of the cab, it was moving down the street, witness testified.

Wheeler conducted his own case.

For security reasons, Lt.-Col. Cabeldu's present duties or the area in which he is now engaged cannot be disclosed.

Lt.-Col. Cabeldu, who has been overseas for two years, left Victoria as company commander, 16th Canadian Scottish.

He is a member of the Victoria Investment firm of Van der Vliet, Cabeldu & May.

Spencer's Workers Contribute 135 Survivor Bundles

A display in David Spencer Ltd. View Street window shows survivors' bundles, 135 of which are being donated by Spencer's War Aid Volunteers to the War Comforts Committee of the Navy League of Canada.

The bundles, which contain pants and belt, turtle-neck wool sweater, two pairs heavy woolen socks, pair soft-soled shoes, pair heavy underwear, wool cap, gloves or mittens, soft shirt, towel, handkerchief, shaving outfit, tooth brush, and powder, comb and two cakes of soap, will be carried on corvettes and destroyers escorting convoys, and will be handed to sailors rescued from the water. The clothing is packed in large, medium and small sizes. Each bundle is valued at $15.

The Spencer's War Aid Volunteers, which is donating the whole of Victoria's quota of bundles, is an organization that was formed at the outbreak of war by all the employees of David Spencer Ltd., Victoria. Its activities include A.R.P. and first aid organization in the store; a hostess service for the entertainment of servicemen; a women's auxiliary which supplies knitted comforts to Britain and the services, and a salvage team to handle any salvage material in the store, and which also assists the local salvage office. Much valuable work has been done by the organization in the "Bundles for Britain" and "Aid Russia" campaigns.

Part of the cost of the survivors' bundles donation is being defrayed by the selling of 25 cent tickets for the raffie of three $50 Victory Bonds.

Officers of Spencer's War Aid Volunteers are: W. E. Bond, president; F. J. Schroeder, vice-president; Miss P. E. Sutherland, secretary; and Mrs. P. Partridge, treasurer.

Fire Insurance Issue To Be Reopened Here

The question of fire insurance coverage of city-owned property may be reopened, Mayor McGavin indicated today.

The mayor studied a report from Vancouver on major reductions made in charges by that city. Before proceeding with the question, the Mayor will seek a report from departmental officials in the City Hall.

Permits for four new homes were issued by the city building inspector's department Wednesday and today. One called for a $4,600 five-room structure at 3100 Fifth Street for Mr. and Mrs. C. McConnell; another for a $2,800 four-room home for John W. Robertson at 521 Burnside; a third for a $3,500 four-room dwelling at 301 Robert Street for A. Honeybourne, and a $3,500 five-room home at 1211 McKenzie Street.

Full support for the proposal to recognize work of A.R.P. officials through a "Salute Your Neighbor" week, Sept. 26 to Oct. 2, suggested by W. C. Mainwaring, chairman of the advisory council, provincial, civilian protection committee, was vouched for by Mayor Andrew McGavin today.

All city rehabilitation schemes, listed by various council committees, will be discussed in detail at a meeting Sept. 2 following a preliminary meeting of the rehabilitation group Wednesday. Each alderman was given a copy of the report listing projects and will be given an opportunity to study the plans prior to the next session.

Mayor Asks Aid For Chinese Fund

Mayor Andrew McGavin today voiced an appeal to "Victorians generally to support the current financial campaign in aid of Chinese war relief work.

"While we are all admiring the success of our armies in Sicily and the great work being done by the Russian armies," the mayor said, "we must not forget what the people of China have been doing for over five years. Starvation and all the grim horrors of war have fallen more heavily on the Chinese than any other nation and Canadians now have the opportunity to make contributions in cash to assist in relieving the sufferings of the Chinese people. We must not fail our Chinese Allies.

"Local headquarters for Canada's Chinese War Relief Fund are at 706 Fort Street, and I trust the response to this urgent appeal will be immediate and generous."

1,000 Families Need Houses In Victoria

Nine hundred newcomers to Victoria were among the 1,250 people who applied to the National Housing Registry Office for accommodation during the first two weeks of August, a local official said today. During the period the registry was able to accommodate 656.

There are 1,000 families still desperately needing houses, the official said, and families of workers are arriving in Victoria every day. They are crowding city hotels and sleeping on floors in the homes of friends. It is reported that there are 36 people living in one house.

It is hoped, the official said, the work of the National Housing Administration, new government office opened at 111 Pemberton Building, in remodeling houses and apartments, and the opening of more private homes to the families of workers, will relieve the situation.

Indian Committed

REXDA (CP) — Pte. Eddie Stonechild, Indian in the Canadian army, was committed to stand trial on a charge of murder in R.C.M.P. court Thursday. He is accused of having murdered Evelyn Severight, 16, also an Indian, of Kamask.

Flt. Sgt. Thomas Main, R.C.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Main, 3361 Cook Street, was killed while on active service overseas, Aug. 13. He was a wireless air gunner attached to the Demon Squadron. He was buried at Braintree, Devonshire, Eng.

Work Transfer Order Extended To All 16 to 40

OTTAWA (CP) — Labor Minister Mitchell announced that all youths and men aged 16 to 40 have been made subject to existing and further employment transfer orders under a recent Order-in-Council.

Previously, the orders—used to shift workers from nonessential to essential industries—applied only to men designated for the compulsory military call-up and to youths aged 16, 17 and 18. Now they apply to all youths and men aged 16 to 40, inclusive, whether married or single and whether or not liable to military call-up.

Mr. Mitchell said the sixth compulsory employment transfer order will be issued shortly. The order, which will relate only to the occupations and industries included in the first five orders, will bring under the previous orders all youths and men from 16 to 40 who have not already been covered.

TO EXAMINE CASES

Mr. Mitchell added that it was intended to "go carefully into the circumstances" surrounding the employment of all men from 16 to 40 in a large number of occupations and industries.

"The cases of men subject to mobilization regulations and of young men 16, 17 and 18 years old have already been reviewed in quite a lengthy list of occupations," he said.

"Shortly an order will be issued bringing the cases of all other men who are within the age limits, provided by the amendment, under examination, and progressively further orders will be issued covering all men in the groups now referred to in the regulations, who may be engaged at certain occupations not covered by the first five orders."

"The process of moving men up to occupations of high priority involves a very great deal of careful and painstaking administration, so that the job must be done progressively. However, the project will be moved along as rapidly as is possible, as a substantial number of men are still required to fill vacancies in high priority jobs."

PLAN PERSUASION

Mr. Mitchell said that, "for the time being at least," while ex-servicemen and men with domestic responsibilities will be required to register under the transfer orders, persuasion will be used in the case of ex-servicemen rather than compulsion, in order to have them transfer to more essential work.

In the case of men with domestic responsibilities, changes of residence will not be required which will involve domestic hardship, although these men will be available for transfer within industry in the areas in which they reside.

He said that once the amendment to the regulations is implemented by specific orders, male employees covered will be required to register at an Employment and Selective Service office, and an employer will be prohibited from continuing to employ the men affected, except under special permit.

Principal, Staff Co-operative, Nice, Students Testify

Principal and staff of Mount View High School were "most co-operative and very nice people," George Reid, a 17-year-old student who matriculated this year, told the Commission of Inquiry into Saanich Schools Administration at County Court House today, when called to the witness stand by H. A. Beckwith, counsel for Dr. J. Morris Thomas, principal of Mount View.

Nine students testified and all mentioned co-operation they had from both principal and staff. They declared themselves in disagreement with a letter presented by Creighton Milligan to the Saanich School Board July 7, in which criticisms were made of the principal and staff.

"I've been at three other high schools and Mount View is the best I've attended; I've made greater headway there," Reid told the commission.

SAW NO DAMAGE

When questioned about testimony of Martin Dawson, former Saanich school trustee, that hinges were pulled off classroom doors, the youthful students denied they had ever seen or even heard of such occurrences. They spoke of disciplinary methods at the school and of the supervision exercised by teachers during noon hours and after school.

"I have seen the principal inspect the boys' washroom two and three times in one day," Alan Harmsen, 18, declared in his testimony. Of the system of self-discipline as it applied at Mount View, he said he felt that 99 per cent of the students succeeded in the method. The teachers participated in extra-curricular activities and were most helpful, he stated.

George Ridley, 17, who completed his third year high in June, told the commission that he resented the statements made in the Milligan letter, which was presented to the school board. He testified, as did several other witnesses, that they had not been invited to Milligan's home when the letter was drafted.

"Morale was as high at Mount View as it was at any other school and there was no indication of lack of control on the part of the staff or students," he said, adding that he had never seen the school in a condition that could be called "indiscreetly filthy."

A declaration that those who attended the meeting at Milligan's home "were worked up unnecessarily" and would never have written the letter had they known what was to follow, was made by Gladys Baxter, 17. She stated she was at the meeting for one hour.

She quoted a passage in "Julius Caesar" from which she stated the pupils had often been reminded of with regards to citizenship. Others giving testimony were Athalie Little, Marie Vowles, Betty Knudsen, Pamela Butcher and Helen Phillips.

2 Sent For Trial On Narcotic Charges

James O. Crozier and James S. Scouler were committed for trial today by Magistrate H. C. Hall on charges of possessing narcotics. Wednesday the pair, with Arthur Walton and Frank Schlosser, were committed for trial on joint charges of breaking and entering the Victoria Pharmacy, 1001 Government.

Constable Angus Munro testified today that as he was taking Crozier to the city police station Aug. 8, Crozier put his hand into his pocket. The constable said he grabbed Crozier's wrist and Crozier dropped a package.

The package was picked up by Constable Robert Morris and turned over to Munro, who in turn gave it to Detective Cpl. P. C. Brooks, R.C.M.P., who testified that he had taken the package containing 16 vials and bottles of pills to H. O. Tomlinson, Dominion analyst, Vancouver.

Certificates signed by Tomlinson showed the samples contained morphine, cocaine and opium.

Cpl. Brooks testified that with Cpl. John Watson, R.C.M.P., and Detective George Claydars and Constable Munro he had searched Scouler at a basement room at 1702 Belmont Avenue, Aug. 8. He found on Scouler's person, he said, a package containing an eyedropper, a hypodermic needle and some cotton, all which appeared to be damp.

These, he said, were taken to Mr. Tomlinson. He produced certificates made by Tomlinson showing that the samples contained morphine.

H. W. Daves, appeared for the crown and Stuart Henderson for the two defendants.

Over 50,000 meals are served daily in the cafeterias of the new Pentagon War Department building, Arlington, Va.

Dorothy Dix:

Dear Miss Dix: I am a young man of 23. I can't save any money out of my salary, but know that if I got married I could save and get along. But if I get married I will have to live with my parents, and they don't care much for my girl. Had I better postpone my marriage? BILL.

LACKS CHARACTER FOR SUCCESSFUL MARRIAGE
Answer: I think you surely had, Bill, for it doesn't take a prophet, nor the daughter of a prophet, to foresee that there is trouble ahead of you if you marry under the conditions you outline.

To begin with, if you can't save money at home, how do you figure out that you can save after you are married? Why, son, you don't begin to know how much it takes to live until you acquire a wife. If it takes all your money to pay all your own bills, what will you do when you have superimposed on them bills for dresses and hats and lingerie and cosmetics and beauty shops and drugs and doctors, and heaven knows what else besides?

Don't marry for economy. It doesn't work out that way. Matrimony isn't an economy; it is a luxury that costs money, and it is like setting up an automobile, something that no man has a right to indulge in until he has the price and can afford it. For it is giving a girl a pretty rotten deal to marry her when you can't even give her a home, and the only prospect you offer her is of pinching pennies and doing without things.

The ability to save is the test of character. If you have the strength and courage to deny yourself the things you desire and save your money, you will get along in the world and be prosperous and successful. If you are so weak that you have to indulge yourself in everything you want, and if you can't never say "no" to gratifiers, then you will be a failure.

But you have to do this of yourself. No wife can supply you with an artificial backbone. So my advice to you is to prove yourself a man before you get married. Save up enough money to set up your own home. You will certainly have a miserable time of it if you take an unwelcome wife to live upon your parents.

New Birth Drug May Aid Surgery On War Wounded

PHILADELPHIA — The new method of making childbirth painless, safe and comfortable, called continuous caudal anesthesia, may prove a great boon to the war-wounded, it appears from a report by Dr. James L. Southworth, Dr. Waldo B. Edwards, and Dr. Robert A. Hingson of the U.S. Public Health Service, who developed the new method, in the forthcoming issue of Annals of Surgery here.

The new anesthesia has now been used in 255 cases in general surgery with only three failures, the doctors report. The cases included operations for femoral and inguinal hernia; Cesarean delivery of a baby; setting of broken bones, other orthopedic operations and amputations of legs and feet; and surgical treatment of varicose veins. It also shows promise as a method of treating thrombophlebitis in the legs.

"It would seem," the doctor state, "that this method is adaptable for use in the treatment of casualties both in civilian and military practice where it would be desirable to have a safe, prolonged analgesia (absence of sensibility to pain) during the transportation and the physical and roentgenologic examinations of the injured."

One anesthetist with several trained corpsmen or medical attendants could handle a large number of patients at one time, they point out. It might be possible to give this anesthetic to some of the war wounded on the field and transport them painlessly to a base for treatment, thus perhaps reducing the instances of shock. The method might also be valuable in preventing the delayed shock condition usually referred to as "crush syndrome."

The new anesthetic method consists of continuous injection near the base of the spine of a pain-killing chemical, metyline. The drug temporarily blocks the nerve pathways for pain below the level of the umbilicus but does not cause unconsciousness. Its chief disadvantages for surgical operations is the time consumed, 30 to 40 minutes, to give the anesthetic and allow it to become complete. A skilled anesthetist, however, can have the patient ready for certain types of operations in 10 minutes.

China has recently received 150 purebred sheep from New Zealand to be used by the government in improving wool production; this is the first batch of a considerable number ordered.

Here's Right Way to Go After Rheumatic Pains

Usually the Excess Acids Start to Leave the System in 48 Hours
Costs But Little—Guaranteed

Here's the swift, modern 48-hour way to get the excess acids producing aches out of your system. Go to any progressive drug store—get a bottle of ALLERGY—follow the vet-end treatment for Stubborn Rheumatic Pains or Backache. Start right in taking it Friday night—stay in bed as much as possible till Monday morning—Allergy acts double fast when the body is relaxed and rested. We don't make any money unless you don't give up hope of getting real relief. Allergy acts fast and in three distinct ways: 1) to relieve the pain; 2) as a diuretic for the kidneys to flush out excess acids and 3) to arouse the body to normal action. All good druggists have been instructed to dispense ALLERGY with the understanding that if the first bottle does not give you the relief you want and have a right to expect, we will gladly refund your money without comment.

Badgers Proved Fighting Skill in Days Of 'Badger-baiting'

Many thousands of badgers live on this continent, but people seldom see them. Their holes may be found on prairies and mountain sides, also about the edges of deserts, but the animals themselves are hard to locate.

There are two main reasons why badgers seldom are seen. One is the fact that they are "nocturnal." They use the nights to hunt their food and spend most of their daylight hours inside their "dugout" homes.

The other main reason badgers are not often seen is that they are careful when they do wander from their holes. In twilight or moonlight, they watch out for enemies. They are tough little fighters, but they have enough sense to know that they are no match for men with rifles.

The badger has a grey coat of rather long hair or fur. There is a streak of white running from the nose up over the head. The grey coat matches the ground in some places, and this is still another thing which keeps them out of sight.

The western prairies of Canada and the United States are the favorite homes of badgers. In that region they do a good deal to keep down the number of pests. They feed on mice, gophers and prairie dogs.

A full-grown badger is usually a little more than two feet long, and weighs about 15 pounds. We may say that it is "built close to the ground." In other words, it has short legs.

Time and again badgers have proved their skill in fighting. In past times, when these animals were more common than today, the so-called sport of "badger-baiting" was carried on. A barrel was laid on the ground, and a captured badger was placed at the open end. Then it was attacked by one or more dogs. The badger always put up a brave fight. It was more than a match for a single dog, and sometimes fought off two or more dogs.

A young man once caught a badger by the tail and hind legs as it was running into its hole. He could not pull it out, and called on the help of a friend who was with him. Even the two together were not able to pull the badger out. If they had succeeded in capturing it alive, they might have been bitten for their pains. This animal has sharp teeth, and uses them when attacked.

An influenza antiserum, prepared by injecting influenza virus into horses and using a certain part of the blood serum, may become a means of protection against influenza in humans; it would be used as a nasal spray.

It is estimated that 1,500,000 cords of wood are used annually for curing tobacco in North Carolina.

Rents in Vernon Slashed By Judge

VANCOUVER — Rent reductions have been ordered in Vernon following a 10-day survey made by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Judge J. R. Archibald, sitting as a rentals committee, instructed a cut in the rents of some 40 apartments, houses and cabins. In one apartment block, rents of five suites were reduced from $15 to $10 a month; one from $16 to $11; one from $17 to $12; one from $27 to $17. Rents of cabins were reduced from $15 to $10 and from $10 to $7. Top floor of a house was rated at $37.50 instead of the $45 charged by the owner. A furnished house rental was reduced from $50 to $42.50, and a back alley cabin had the rent cut from $12 to $7.

Sky Freight Trains For Postwar Period

IOWA CITY, Ia. (AP) — Coast-to-coast, nonstop aerial freight trains, which will switch their cargo in the sky like railroads now shift boxcars, were predicted for the postwar period today by Roy A. Watkins, Chicago Aircraft Company executive.

The freight trains that fly will create an entirely new marketing system for large farmers, ranchers and plantation operators, Watkins said.

Fine Produce Seen At Langford Show

Members, organizers and exhibitors were heartily congratulated by judges, Neil Pollock and Mrs. H. A. Baxter, on the excellent display of vegetables, fruit, flowers and bottled produce shown at the Langford Women's Institute annual flower show Wednesday in the institute hall.

The show was opened by Mesdames S. H. Vallis and Mrs. F. Parker of Colwood Women's Institute, who commented on a display of seven jars of different wild fruits made into jam, by Mrs. A. Olson. The exhibit of vegetables through the planting of Victory gardens was so large, the judge gave four extra prizes for different varieties of potatoes, carrots, citrons and peas. Mrs. C. Rezac had the best collection of vegetables, 23, with F. H. Staverman second.

In the flower section, a large showing of dahlias by R. Waterhouse was admired. In the children's sections the Misses Irene and Edith Turner were prominent prizewinners as was Fred Hayton with three beautifully-made airplanes.

An exhibit of an "Uncle Tom Cabin" quilt made by Mrs. Malcolm and owned by Mrs. L. Powers attracted much attention.
